

No Clues, No Woody, No Money

by GLORIA DAVIS

On June 7, 1985, Woody Kelly was a well known and liked Antioch investor and community activist who also owned a charter boat company.

At 2:30 p.m. on June 8, Kelly left Kenosha Harbor alone on a boat he was reportedly trying out. The boat's possible purchase as an addition to the fleet of boats he already owned was the purported purpose of Kelly's solo shakedown cruise.

The sight of Kelly leaving the Wisconsin harbor was the last time, up to press time this week, that anyone has publicly admitted to seeing Kelly.

The popular Kelly was supposed to sail the boat to Waukegan Harbor and meet his wife there. He never arrived and the empty boat was found foundering along the shore in Zion.

At first the Village of Antioch thought they had lost one of their community's most popular and active citizens.

Weeks later, as no sign of Kelly or clues turned-up to lead investigators to the reason or cause of his disappearance, reports of possible financial discrepancies in Kelly's businesses surfaced.

The Lake County State's Atty's. office couldn't find a sign of Kelly, but after weeks of investigating, State's Atty. Fred Foreman admitted that his office also could find no sign of any investing done by Kelly with the $6 million supposedly given him for that purpose by investors.

Then came the news that Kelly had been under investigation for fraud after a complaint was filed by a Wisconsin veterinarian that claims Kelly bilked him out of over $400,000 on the premise of investing it.

Little by little, the months went by, no more was found out about Kelly's disappearance and his body failed to surface in Lake Michigan as authorities expected it to if he had accidentally fallen or been thrown off of the boat. Soon law enforcement authorities arrived at the almost certainty that Kelly had invested none of the money he was supposed to.

Individuals, friends, relatives and business acquaintances and organizations all reported having turned millions over to Kelly.

Not only did Kelly allegedly bilk private citizens out of their money, but he also "invested" money for groups with the Lake Villa Rescue Squad into him for over $30,000 that the department had hoped to double for the purchase of a new ambulance.

Friends and neighbors were shocked and (Continued on Page 12)

Cubs Pass On To Scouts

by GLORIA DAVIS

In Boy Scouting, the Arrow of Light Ceremony takes place when a Cub Scout passes over "a bridge" into Webelos.

It is a big night for Cub Scouts and their parents because this is when they become Boy Scouts. Approximately 12 badge completions are needed to accomplish this.

At the end of each year, Cubs are awarded graduation certificates, and, with their parents, they make that bridge crossing into a Boy Scout Troop.

Cub Scout Troop 190, Antioch, last week had eight Cub Scouts cross the bridge. At the closed ceremony, a flaming arrow for each Scout is fired into the area.

On that date, Cub Scouts also passed into Troop 192.

Jaycees To Spearhead Fingerprints

In cooperation with the Lake County Sheriff's Dept. and the Antioch Police Dept., the Antioch Jaycees will be holding a child fingerprinting session in connection with the 1-Search Program.

Parents are urged to bring their children to the State Bank of Antioch to have their fingerprints taken and receive an identification card with the child's fingerprints recorded on it on Saturday, June 6, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

This is a best mode of identification in case of kidnapping or loss of the child.

For many years the names of Antioch High School's valedictorian and salutatorian were kept a surprise until commencement exercises. Not this year.

Another unusual twist this year connected with choosing the senior with the highest marks gained all four years, is the fact that in 1987, ACHS has two valedictorians, and the ladies have it!

Cindy Spronk and Linda Sexton will be giving the valedictorian addresses at graduation exercises on Sunday, June 7, at 2 p.m., in the north gym of the high school. The salutatorian is Melody Ann Reitmayer, making it a female academic shutout.

Spronk is the daughter of Dr. Adrian and Christine Spronk of Lindenhurst. She has two brothers and one sister and is headed for Calvin College in Grand Rapids, Mich., to pursue a career in elementary education.

Besides an obvious devotion to her studies, Spronk kept herself busy during her years at ACHS playing field hockey, being part of the Spanish club and the math team, as well as a member of the National Honor Society. She loves to use her leisure time for reading and sports and her favorite subject was mathematics.

She intends to work this summer before leaving for college in the fall.

Sexton is the daughter of Michael and Margaret Sexton of Antioch. She has one brother and is headed for Bradley University in southern Illinois next fall to get a foundation for a business career. What segment of the business world will be her oyster is still not decided upon.

When she wasn't cracking the books, Sexton kept busy as a varsity cheerleader and playing volleyball, basketball and softball. Boating, one of her favorite pastimes has just begun, but her participation in that will be tempered this summer by her job at the Bank of Waukegan's Antioch Branch.

The second-ranked smartster, Reitmayer, the daughter of James and Cheryl Reitmayer of Antioch, has yet to make her future plans.

Where Is Woody? Still Being Asked By Many

Lake County law enforcement agencies, the state's attorney's office and the FBI strongly support the opinion that Woody Kelly is still alive and hiding somewhere, most probably in the Caribbean.

Kelly, who may have bilked residents and organizations in Wisconsin and Illinois out of $6 million as of June of 1985, disappeared from a boat in Lake Michigan two years ago, on June 8.

At first Kelly's disappearance was thought to be an accident as he was alone on the boat he was testing on a trip between Kenosha and Waukegan Harbors. But to date his body had never surfaced.

Investigation of the incident turned up the fact that no trace could be found of a reported $6 million that investors from both states had given Kelly, owner of an Antioch Investment Co., to invest for them.

No evidence of any investments being made was found after investigators spent months pouring over all of the available files confiscated from Kelly's several businesses including a charter boat company. The businesses operated out of Antioch, Gurnee and Florida. Kelly has been indicted for fraud by the FBI.

Kelly's assets, that included an estate in Salem Wis., many boats including a large personal yacht, luxury cars and property in Florida, have since been sold to partially satisfy his creditors.

If Kelly is was a con-man, his method seemed to be to move into the Antioch, southeastern Wisconsin area, open a business and see that some well-known people made quick money on investments so they could pass the word.

He was active in the community, donating generously to local organizations. He was also known to do lavish entertaining at his lakeside estate in Wisconsin that included a horse barn with living quarters, tennis courts, swimming pool, several verandas and servants quarters which were inhabited by his children.

Reports had Kelly knowing he was under investigation just prior to his disappearance. There were also unconfirmed reports of helicopter activity in the vicinity of Kelly's boat at the time of his "evaporation."

But, two years later, the investigation into Kelly's whereabouts is at the same spot it was six months after his disappearance and "Where is Woody Kelly," is still being asked by former friends and business clients from both states.

5 Carmel Girls Are All-Stars

The North Division of the Girls' Catholic Athletic Conference selected five Carmel players for its All-Star team.

Those chosen were Tracie Godwin, Katie Jacobson, Sue Jurgens, Sara Cay Kranz, and Trisha Kristan, all of Mundelein.

In addition, three Carmel players were selected to the All-Conference team. Kristan was chosen for the Conference Second Team, while Jurgens and Kranz were selected as All-Conference First Team members.

Horse Show

The third annual Lake County Open Horse Show to benefit 4-H will be held on Sunday, June 7, at 8:30 a.m. at Big-Z Riding Club in Zion. This event is being co-sponsored by the Lake County Mounted Posse. The entry fee is $4 per class. A first place trophy and five ribbons will be awarded in each class. For a show bill or more information, call (312) 249-3683 or (312) 872-2765.

Workers Undergo Training

Chief Judge Fred A. Geiger announced that Lake County Court Services personnel underwent a record number of training hours in 1986.

The average number of hours per officer exceeded the state requirement of 20 per year per veteran officer and 40 hours per year for newly appointed personnel.

The total number of hours of training exceeded state standards by 100 percent. Most of the training was provided at no cost to the county through utilization of state and federal funding.

By meeting minimum training requirements the county was able to receive $1,226,725 in salary and mileage reimbursement from the state in 1986. Personnel participated in 47 separate training programs on topics ranging from adolescent crisis to family violence.

Richmond Bypass Remains 'On Paper' Until Fall

by GLORIA DAVIS

The matter of the Richmond Bypass is presently bogged down in the paper work of the Illinois Dept. of Transportation.

Richmond officials who are up in arms about the possibility of downtown Richmond being bypassed by a rerouting of Rte. 12 westward to Lake Geneva, are waiting to hear from IDOT on the next developments and possible meeting and/or hearing.

Reports are that they might wait until fall for further developments of a plan that could have a tremendous negative impact on the economy of Richmond and the Village of Twin Lakes.

According to Anthony Osnacz, project study unit engineer for IDOT, his department is preparing environmental and engineering documents based on the studies that department has done to date to be submitted to IDOT's central office, to be then modified when the engineers get it back.

After those modifications are completed, the Federal Hwy. Commission gets into the act and once the engineers obtain concurrence from these other departments and agencies, preparation will begin for the public hearing.

Osnacz said that he sees that possibly taking place sometime in late summer or early fall somewhere in the Richmond area.

Numerous Antioch and Grass Lake merchants donated items that became prizes and food that was served.

LV Firemen Host Drill For Divers

Divers gathered May 20 in Lake Villa for a practice session on search and rescue techniques.

Members of the Lake County Underwater Association, about 20-25 divers took part in the event held at Lehman Park and hosted by the Lake Villa Fire Dept.

The drill was held from 5 p.m. to about 7:30 or 8 p.m. and involved divers from eight areas, including Antioch, Fox Lake, Round Lake, Lake Zurich, Wauconda, Newport, Windy Harbor and Lake Villa.

Divers practiced diving and checked out their gear along with boat handlers. Afterwards, the Lake Villa

Fire Dept. provided a round of refreshments.

Practice sessions are held monthly and hosted each time by a different department.

Need AIDS Guidelines

With the current school term ending and another school year still some months away, school officials would be well advised to spend summertime preparing policies on AIDS before the disease strikes a student or staff member.

The spectacular edge has been taken off acquired immune deficiency syndrome. AIDS now has become one of the harsh realities of life like student pregnancy and substance abuse. A well-thought-out policy is desirable to have.

We are aware of one district that calls for a child with AIDS to remain in school unless the child tends to bite, has open sores or cannot control bodily functions. These guidelines were set by the Federal Centers for Disease Control in Atlanta and endorsed by the Illinois State Board of Education.

Concerned parents and interested citizens should urge the schools to adopt general, flexible guidelines on AIDS before the 1987-88 school year begins.

Rekindling Pool Spirit

It's encouraging that Chicago Metropolitan YMCA board of managers is keeping an open mind on the future of the Camp Duncan Y Pool which they originally ticketed for closing to the public.

The decision, based on a combination of the YMCA's unique way of bookkeeping and a sort of take-the-pool-for-granted attitude on the part of the users, sparked a public outcry. In a way, the decision to discontinue memberships served as a spark to renew interest and appreciation in a valuable community asset.

Pool supporters have expressed determination to aggressively market the pool to the service area including Fox Lake, McHenry, Wauconda, the Round Lake area and the adjacent locality besides creation of an advisory board to deal with operational problems, particularly a nagging deficit. It should be obvious to the Chicago Metropolitan Y that the Camp Duncan pool isn't being taken for granted by persons who care about it.

We've been around long enough to remember vividly that when the pool was being constructed, it constituted one of the most exciting civic projects to come down the pike in a long time. Even in an area where recreational lakes abound, a year-around swimming facility is a distinct asset. If that original spirit can be rekindled—and we happen to think it already has—a bright future for public use can be predicted for the Camp Duncan Y pool.

One Brick At A Time

Fox Lake, one of the five finalists for the governor's hometown award for its entry of the new Community Center, can justifiably be proud whether or not it wins the honor to be announced June 10 at a banquet in Springfield.

The community, once noted more for its record number of taverns than civic and cultural pursuits, already has received a number of accolades for a project that truly represents a community effort all the way. From individual monetary contributions to actual construction labor.

Already one of the realities of keeping a pure form community project going has set in—providing for upkeep and operations. Center Manager Ernie Rizzo isn't hiding the cold, hard facts. Money will be short. Operating funds will be raised just like building funds, from the grassroots. The Community Center doesn't have an angel or a sugar daddy.

Even as the future is bright for community service, it'll be nickels and dimes, "one brick at a time," to keep the handsome new building looking like the day it was completed, in the years to come.

The Simon Agenda

U.S. Sen. Paul Simon, the Illinois Democrat who is seeking his party's presidential nomination, has set forth a simple, straightforward agenda on which to run.

Simon's campaign will zero in on jobs, education, long-term care for senior citizens and arms control.

The Simon agenda encapsulates the "something for everyone" strategy on which all good presidential campaigns are based. Single issue or narrowly focused candidates can get elected to local and state office, but the White House seeker had well better provide for youth, the aged, the economy and peace.

The popular Illinois Democrat appears to have done his homework well. For good measure, he is parlaying his glasses and bow tie trademarks into a close tie to Harry Truman.

Success Story Found In U.S. Manufacturing

by BILL SCHROEDER

Just when the belief had overtaken us that all our manufactured goods are brought in from overseas, a walk through an honest-to-goodness factory where people actually make things restored our faith in America.

I felt downright patriotic after a quick tour of CHF Industries, where workmen were involved in a variety of tasks needed to produce high quality tables and decorative panels. Workers were cutting, shaping, glueing, pressing, spraying, assembling—and shipping—custom made tables and panels that will be used in transit cars, board rooms, offices, restaurants, cafeterias and homes, all for a specific purpose.

"We're basically a huge job shop," remarked owner and president William "Bill" Dermer, the affable driving force behind the plant at 150 Pine St., Grayslake, where some 65 persons are engaged in manufacturing CHF's distinctive laminated top and natural wood table tops. CHF's work force comes from within a 15-mile radius, so the plant is a true Lakeland operation. The company maintains another plant at Racine, Wis., where pedestals are manufactured.

Dermer pays high tribute to the dedication and craftsmanship of the CHF staff. "Our people have perfected some special techniques for fitting the mouldings to the tops that give us an edge (no pun intended) on the competition," Dermer explained as he walked through the 80,000 square foot factory.

Of the competition, Dermer provided some interesting sidelights. CHF's entry level pay scale is higher than the highest paid employees of CHF's Sunbelt competitors. The decision was made some years ago to serve highest quality demands. One of five sheets of laminate is discarded for imperfections. Hardwoods, some of which come from Europe, are carefully inspected. One of Dermer's favorite marketing stories is how CHF lost—and then reacquired—the Marshall Fields account on the basis of quality. "They thought our prices were out of line, so they went to a competitor. When the product they were selling didn't stand up, they returned to us."

Dermer supported arguments that mid-western states' unemployment and workmen's compensation laws are making it increasingly difficult for manufacturing business to survive. Spiraling insurance costs are discouraging. CHF pays five percent of its annual $8 million sales volume in various insurance costs.

Here is a company that is making its way with quality, determination and ingenuity. No subsidies. No tariff protections. A manufacturing success story—in America.

Letters To The Editor

Planning That's Moral

Editor:

I am concerned. At a time when the dollar is being devalued, interest rates are climbing, and needs for funding necessary programs in America exist, our Senators and Congressmen and women are giving our tax dollars away. Foreign aid is not morally wrong. Funding of agencies which sponsor, advise, and manage compulsory involuntary abortion and sterilization is. I speak in reference to our giving $41 million to the United Nations Fund for Population Control (UNFPC) and International Planned Parenthood Federation (IPPF).

Pro-abortion forces, those militantly legislating for state and federal funding of "abortion on demand," are working through their lobbies now. They want the Senate and House Appropriations Committees to restore funding to these organizations. They want to reverse the Kemp/Kasten Amendment of 1985 which denied them funds based on their work with Communist China.

America has been fighting for human rights on many fronts. Crimes against humanity are many and Red China's program on coercive abortion and involuntary sterilization is morally wrong. Why should we fund such a crime directly? Why should we fund it indirectly through UNFPC and IPPF? Planned Parenthood is spending $2 million to get our senators and representatives to pass legislation to send our tax dollars overseas to kill babies and prevent their conception.

The only planned parenting that is morally right is responsible consideration for the life and living of conceived children or proper use of birth control measures that prevent fertilization.

Write state and national senators and representatives. Tell them to vote against direct and indirect wording in legislation that funds crimes against humanity. Tell these lawmakers to be diligent in catching amendments and "continuing resolutions" in foreign aid bills financing UNFPC, IPPF and PPA. We all need to consider God-given life sacred, and living, a God-given right no person has the right to take from anyone.

I would like to commend Bill Schroeder as a father and a prominent newspaper editor for taking a stance on the "added" prom activities. Unfortunately, the majority or "Middle American" rarely is heard. He changed that by speaking out. Thank you for reinforcing the beliefs of parents who love their children so much they are willing to say "no" in order to teach right and wrong or to protect their children from harm.

Letters To The Editor:

To the response received and printed from the alias "Mr. Wilmer Wimple," I would like to say... I am the parents of two teens, have had four exchange students live in my home, am an advisor for a state teen group, and I think our teens today deserve much more credit than "Mr. Wimple" is willing to give them. It is very difficult to comprehend his belief that promiscuous teen-age sex is "safe." Perhaps he should look up the statistics on teen-age abortions, sexually-transmitted diseases, and teen suicide from unhappy affairs to realize the misconception of this type of reasoning.

The teens I have been involved with are intelligent, active, and have respect for themselves, their bodies, their friends, and their future; therefore, the prom agenda has a much more wholesome list of activities than "Mr. Wimple" offers. Perhaps he has been basing his premises on too many sex-oriented programs and publications rather than recognizing that many of our youth today do go home rather than to motel rooms. Teens give time to sports, school clubs, jobs, youth groups and volunteers programs. Many teens also have chosen to include God and religious beliefs in directing their lives.

Come on, "Mr. Wimple," give teens a break—don't try to generalize the behavior of a few as a norm for all—that's not the way it is!

Parents Kid Themselves

Editor:

I commend you for speaking out against motel overnights as part of prom programs.

Too often parents are intimidated by their own peers and their own children into going against their basic moral values. Permissive parents kid themselves into thinking their children are mature enough to handle sex. What happens when they have not had any training and are on their own away from home?

Does "Mr. Wimple," who wrote in favor of motel overnights, really think his son or daughter won't go to bars to seek sexual encounters? Have they ever learned to set limits on themselves or have they only learned to indulge in their sexual desires?

Permissive parents should realize that because they don't teach their children morals such as chastity, fidelity or commitment that they won't even know how to find true love, true happiness and peace in their lives.

Goscinski Captures First Place In VICA

Brian Goscinski, Grant Community High School senior and student at the Lake County Area Vocational Center (LAVC) Machine Shop Program, has won first place in the regional and state Vocational Industrial Clubs of America competition (VICA).

According to his machine shop instructor, Donald Ruesch, the LAVC uses the VICA contest as a "bench mark to measure the skills of its students as compared to their state and the nation."

Students must qualify by taking a written exam. The competition itself is nine hours long. Thousands of people observe the competitors and because of this Ruesch worked closely with the students on maintaining their concentration as well as their physical strength and stamina.

All five LAVC competitors placed in the top eight places with Goscinski receiving the gold, first place award. Goscinski's future plans include a possible machine shop apprenticeship.

Shady Lane Tips Hat For Benefit

Shady Lane School eighth graders express their appreciation to all who bought chances for their Springfield trip.

The drawing was held Thursday, May 21, by the top sellers of both campaigns.

Prizes were:

First, $100 certificate for Pik Wik, Jill Powers, who bought the chances from her eighth grade son, Woody; and second, $50 in cash, Fran O'Brien, who bought the chances from eighth grader Ryan Sage.

Thank You

I WISH to thank all the men on the Fox Lake Rescue Squad for their efficiency and kindness in transporting me to Northern Illinois Medical Center, on May 2, 1987, also my friends who sent so many expressions of their concern and love while I was hospitalized. Gratefully, Lucille Klein.

Summer Favorite 'Real' Ice Cream

When one thinks of summer, one thinks of cool, creamy ice cream—in a favorite dish or on a crunchy cone. Americans spend $8 billion per year for ice cream and related products, making the U.S. the world's largest consumers. That's about 1.33 billion gallons, or enough to give every human being on earth 10 single-scoop cones.

About six to nine percent of all the ice cream produced in the United States falls into the super-premium category. These "gourmet" ice creams contain more than the minimum required 10 percent milkfat with some containing as much as 20 percent. That's why they taste so rich and creamy.

Why not try making some ice cream? Offering a bit of nostalgia, homemade ice cream also offers a number of benefits: One can add their own top quality ingredients—real dairy products and natural flavors; it allows one to use creative additions that may not be available in store flavors, and thanks to the new, simplified electric ice cream makers, small quantities are easy to prepare.

The ice cream base can be the "French" cooked, custardy mix of milk and eggs or a blend of light cream, or half-and-half, with whipping cream.

Sugar sweetens the mixture and brings out the creamy flavor. Create special flavors by adding pureed fruits, melted chocolate, extracts and juices. While stirring or agitating the ice cream during the freezing process, air is incorporated. Then additional popular ingredients may be added, like nuts, chocolate bits, other candies, or pieces of fruit.

If making ice cream for the first time, the Wisconsin Milk Marketing Board and American Dairy Assn. offer the following tips for best results:

—Carefully follow the usage instructions provided by the manufacturer of the ice cream maker.

—Cooked mixtures require chilling; allow several hours or overnight.

—Use the proportions of sweeteners and flavorings specified in each recipe. Cold numbs the taste buds, so the mix can't be judged until it's frozen.

—If pieces of fruit, nuts or other special ingredients are being added, cut them very small to avoid clogging the dasher blades.

—Pureed fruit prevents a coarse textured ice cream. Sweeten the fruit before adding it to the mixture to keep it from freezing hard.

—Cure ice cream before serving to let flavors mellow and blend. Just spoon the ice cream into a plastic freezer container, cover and place in the freezer for two to three hours. Count the minutes if necessary, but the waiting time is worth it.

—When whipped cream is called for, whip it only until soft peaks form. If it is too stiff, it will taste buttery. Don't fold whipped cream in to a warm mixture.

Vanilla Custard Ice Cream

1 1/2 cups sugar
2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
one-eighth tsp. salt
8 cups light cream or half-and-half
2 beaten eggs
4 tsp. vanilla

For custard, in a large saucepan combine the sugar, gelatin and salt. Stir in half of the light cream or half-and-half. Cook and stir over medium heat till the mixture almost boils and the sugar dissolves. Stir about one cup of the hot mixture into the beaten eggs; return all of the mixture to the saucepan. Cook and stir for two minutes. Cool. Stir in the remaining cream and the vanilla. Freeze in a four- or five-quart ice cream freezer according to manufacturer's directions. Makes about three quarts.

Peach-Cherry Ice Cream

Prepare Vanilla Custard Ice Cream as directed, except combine three cups peeled and mashed fully ripe peaches (two pounds) and half a cup of sugar. Add to the cooled custard mixture. Stir in two cups fresh dark sweet cherries, pitted and chopped, and one-quarter teaspoon ground mace. If desired, stir in several drops orange food coloring. Freeze as directed above. preparation time: 30 minutes plus freezing.

Huntington Is Top Student

Debbie Huntington, senior cosmetology student from Warren Twp. High Schol., has been named "Student of the Year" for the 1986-87 school year at the Lake County Area Vocational Center.

Huntington, of Gurnee, was selected from a field of 21 students, one from each of the program areas at the Center.

Mervyn Pilotte, director of LCAVC, stated, "The competition for the honor of "Student of the Year" is always very stiff, and this year was no exception. Of the five finalists, all of whom had straight 'A's and perfect attendance, they would all make excellent representatives of LCAVC. Debbie just has that little something extra. She's a hard-working young lady with a future that looks bright."

In addition to earning straight A's and being named student of the year, Huntington was also a member of the cosmetology team that competed for top state honors and also tutored students in the theory and practice of cosmetology, for which she was honored at the LCAVC awards banquet on May 14.

A Tale Of Two Endings: Grant, Grayslake Fall

For one team, a loss in the first round of the Antioch baseball meant thinking what could of been.

For another, the loss meant hoping the 1987 season does not repeat itself soon.

Grant is the team thinking what might be while Grayslake looks to the future.

Grant was unceremoniously booted out of the regional in the quarterfinal round by Warren 10-0. The Bulldogs finish, then with a 22-11 and won the NWSC title with a 12-2 mark - yet another championship for the Fox Lake school's trophy case from the NWSC.

"We have not been playing well for the last three games. It's a bad way to end the season," Grant coach Fritz Kazlauskas lamented afterward.

Although the final score was lopsided, the way in which the Blue Devils, which had ousted Round Lake earlier, got the win was not.

Battling Grant starter Joe Vocke and impending rain at Grant, Warren did not score until the third with three runs. Warren then exploded for seven in the fifth to put it away.

Kazlauskas said the home team appeared tight, misplaying several plays. "They were fighting themselves," Kazlauskas said.

Grayslake, meanwhile, played one of its best games of the year against Zion-Benton in the opening round, but the breaks simply did not go the Rams' way.

"Two calls took us out of the game," Grayslake coach Jim Haas said after his team lost 4-1 to the Zee-Bees.

Grayslake ended the year 6-15 overall, 5-9 in the Northwest Suburban Conference play.

The two teams fought a scoreless battle through the first four innings as Mike Langer pitched one of his better games of the season for Grayslake.

Langer fanned seven hitters while walking just one and giving up six hits.

When Jim Neumann hit a homer in the fifth to give Grayslake a 1-0 lead, it looked as if the visitors might pull off the upset.

But Zion, after the close call went to its favor, scored twice in its half of the inning and two more in the sixth to secure the win.

Overall, Haas described the season as "disappointing. We wished some people could have lived up to their potential."

Grant Wins Softball Regional

by STEVE PETERSON
Sports Editor

Grant's softball team had just beaten Warren 7-3 to earn the Antioch regional championship, but Grant coach Sue Richardson thought back to 1977.

"Everything fell together in '77 and we came to within one game of going to state," Richardson said.

Perhaps after all the success that Grant High School has experienced this season - the football team making the state playoffs for the first time in decades and winning the Northwest Suburban Conference title; the cross country, wrestling, basketball and baseball teams all winning the NWSC titles, perhaps, 10 years later, it will again be the Bulldogs' chance for glory.

The regional title was especially sweet for Richardson, who has been coaching against Warren's Chris Woodard for 11 years.

"It was nice to come back and beat Round Lake (in the semi-final round) and it is always nice to beat Warren," Richardson said.

Grant, which entered this week's Hersey sectional with a 14-7 record, won the regional tournament on the strength of solid pitching by Becky Brace. Brace fanned 15 Warren batters and allowed just three hits through the nine-inning game. Grant also took advantage of Warren's defensive collapse, especially in the ninth, when Grant scored four times.

For Warren, whose season ended at 19-6, the game marked the second straight season in which the Blue Devils have been ousted in the regional final.

"We didn't come up with the plays when we needed them. We just did not execute the way we did all season," Woodard said.

Still, Warren looked like it was going to win the regional title. After trailing 2-0, the Blue Devils scored one run in the fifth and two more in the sixth innings to take a 3-2 lead.

In the fifth, Jenny Marker ledoff with a single and later scored on a wild pitch.

In the sixth, Dawn Bendery singled, Terri Ingalls walked and the two later scored on a Marker single.

Grant bounced right back, sending the game into extra innings with a run in its seventh.

"I thought we were pretty confident going into the game," Woodard said.

The Bulldogs started out well this year, but then hit a mid-season slump, losing four conference games which cost Grant another NWSC crown.

"We've come on strong the last six games," Richardson said.

Grant Places Six Players On All-NWSC Baseball Team

Surprising no one who watched the Northwest Suburban Conference baseball race, Grant dominated the league's all-conference selection, placing six players and one honorable mention on the elite list.

Grant coach Fritz Kazlauskas was named NWSC's coach of the year while his son, Mike, was named Most Valuable Player. This is the second year for the NWSC coach of the year honor - former Round Lake coach Howard Schroeder won it last year.

Mike Kazlauskas, who has won a scholarship to the Air Force Academy, finished the year with a .518 batting average and a .632 slugging percentage.

The NWSC all-league team consists of representatives from each of the Lakeland area schools.

Besides Kazlauskas, other Bulldogs making the team include: Marc Borton, Mike McDonald, Jim Theobald and Joe Vocke. All are seniors and all except Theobald were unanimous selections.

MacDonald hit .337 with 21 runs, 29 hits and 31 runs scored. Theobald hit .308 with 28 hits and 25 runs scored. Borton batted .295 with 31 hits and 31 runs scored.

Vocke, Grant's top starting pitcher, finished with a 9-5 record and an earned run average of 2.95. At the plate he had 31 rbis to go along with 40 hits and 29 runs scored.

Senior pitcher Mike Langer from Grayslake was also on the unanimous choices.

Johnsburg's representatives are seniors Frank Husak and Eric Mellum. It was the second straight selection and a unanimous pick for Husak.

Joe Laubinger, Keith Schmidt, Chuck Banker and Damon Horn made the team for Round Lake. It was Banker's second all-conference selection and he was an unanimous pick and Laubinger and Schmidt were unanimous picks.

Wauconda placed Dave Kyst and Todd Marlowe on the team. Catcher Marlowe was a unanimous pick.

Grant's Bob Beskow was named honorable mention.

Grant won the league title with a 12-2 record followed by Lake Zurich at 10-4, Round Lake at 8-6, Wauconda and Marian Central at 6-8 and Grayslake and Johnsbury at 5-9. Marengo was last with a 4-10 record.

Lake Zurich won both the freshmen and sophomore titles. The Bears' soph finished 12-2 and the freshmen were 4-0. In the sophomore standings, Round Lake was second at 10-4, followed by Grayslake at 9-5; Johnsbury at 8-6; Grant 6-8; Marengo 5-8; Wauconda 3-10 and Marian Central 1-11.

Graduates

Evangelina Castro Tomczewski, daughter of Pablo and Aida Castro of Waukegan, was one of the 132 graduates participating in commencement exercises at the St. Louis College of Pharmacy. Diplomas were awarded by Dr. Sumner Robinson, president of the college, on May 16. The commencement speaker was Carolyn Losos, director, Leadership St. Louis.

Atty. General Puts Clamp On Mortgage Deception

Illinois Atty. General Neil F. Hartigan, who took legal action against three Cook County mortgage companies earlier this month, has filed lawsuits against two more companies and officers involved in them.

The two new lawsuits filed in Cook County Circuit Court name as defendants First Western Mortgage Corp. of Illinois, 540 North Ct., Palatine; and Woodfield Mortgage Co., 855 Sterling, Suite 140, Palatine.

The First Western lawsuit also names Robert Gorski, individually and as president of the firm, and Nadine Allen, individually and as secretary.

The Woodfield Mortgage lawsuit also names James Baloun, individually and as managing agent.

The suits, filed under the Illinois Consumer Fraud and Deceptive Business Practices Act, allege that the defendants have engaged in deceptive tactics to take advantage of consumers during periods of rising interest rates.

The suit alleges that after leading consumers to believe that interest rates are fixed, the defendants have delayed processing loans so that deadlines would be missed and higher rates could be charged.

"Over the past year, the defendants in both these cases actually instituted and implemented a company policy of not honoring interest rates and terms previously promised," Hartigan said. "The word has come down from the top that consumers are not supposed to get what they've been promised."

"A difference of only half or one percent in the interest rate can increase monthly payments by $100 or more and add up to thousands of dollars over the lifetime of an individual loan," Hartigan explained. "This is the situation consumers who've trusted these firms have ended up facing, and their only choice has been to pay the higher rates or give up the dream of owning a home."

Hartigan is seeking court orders forbidding the defendants to engage in the mortgage business in Illinois, revoking the corporations' licenses, appointing receivers for the corporations' assets, and requiring the defendants to pay restitution to consumers, over $100,000 each in civil penalties and court costs.

The mortgage companies named as defendants in Hartigan's three earlier suits are Midwest Funding Corp. of Downers Grove, Bell Mortgage Co. in Evergreen Park, and United First Mortgage Co., formerly of Homewood.

"The five lawsuits I've filed this week should make it clear that Illinois is not going to tolerate those who turn home-buying into a nightmare for workers and families," Hartigan said. "I've already targeted 20 other Illinois mortgage companies and lenders against which my office may take action."

The attorney general's office receives about 800 to 1,000 calls weekly, and 250 formal complaints are filed each week from consumers who have had difficulties with mortgage companies.

Hartigan stressed that most Illinois mortgage lenders are honest and reputable but that consumers entering the mortgage market should proceed cautiously, obtain all terms and definitions in writing, and obtain the guidance of an attorney.

Condos Big In Suburbs

Condominium and townhomes represent an even 50 percent of home sales in Chicago's northern suburbs, a sampling of Baird and Warner's north region sale discloses. The region comprises sales offices serving the Deerfield, Evanston, Glenview, Lake Forest, Libertyville, Northbrook and Winnetka areas.

A sampling of 172 residential sales showed that condos constitute 40 percent of sales, townhomes 11 percent, colonials 24 percent and ranch homes 16 percent.

"The baby boomers continue to invigorate this market," stated Alan L. Bigelow, vice president and north region manager, "with nearly half of the buyers surveyed between the ages of 30 and 39." Some 20 percent were under age 29 and another 22 percent were between 40 and 49.

Some 28 percent of the homes were sold to single buyers; another 34 percent of the sales were to two-person households; and 12 percent of the homes went to three-person households.

Sales were brisk during the period, Bigelow reports, with nearly half of the home sold less than 30 days from listing, and two of three sales occurring within 60 days of listing.

Data for the survey of March sales were provided by the following north region sales managers: Pat Gustie, Deerfield; James R. Hoel, Ebanston; Nancy Engstrom, Glenview; Bobbie N. Hornacek, Lake Forest; Alex F. March, Libertyville; Jan Falcone, Northbrook; and Ellen R. Gerding, Winnetka.

Founded in 1855, Baird and Warner is the Chicago area's oldest independently owned full-service real estate organization, with 31 sales offices.

The Chicago Roofing Contractors Assn. (CRCA) has embarked upon a campaign entitled "Know Your Roofing Contractor."

The purpose of the campaign is to better inform building owners of the benefits to them of knowing more about whom they hire to install a new roof, replace an old one, or make necessary repairs to a leaky one.

As part of this campaign, an eight-minute slide presentation called "Know Your Roofing Contractor" has been prepared and will be shown at meetings of Chicago and northern Illinois groups.

Library To Offer Program

The Antioch Twp. Library will have a reading program starting June 22 through Aug. 10. There are lots of activities planned for children ages three through 13.

Movies will be shown every Wednesday starting at 2 p.m. Watch for special events during the summer. Registration will be taken June 8 through 27.

For more information call (312) 395-0874.

Urging Early Rising For Grass Lake Rd. Bird Walk

Outdoor enthusiasts are encouraged to rise early on Sunday, June 7 for a 7 a.m. summer birdwalk through McDonald Woods Forest Preserve. Terri Donovan, naturalist for the Lake County Forest Preserve Dist. will help people identify the area's numerous birds with song, habitat and behavior clues. Binoculars will be available.

McDonald Woods is located west of Milburn on Grass Lake Rd. Its 256 acres are home to two state-endangered species: the common gallinule and the yellow-headed blackbird. Its diverse combination of ponds, fields and woods makes it possible to see many different birds in a small area.

Don Strenger, president of the forest preserve district said, "It's rewarding to know that Lake County has set aside this land as a place for rare birds to safely raise their young. There's a good chance that people on this walk will be able to spot them."

For directions or more information call Ryerson Woods at (312) 948-7750. Ryerson Woods houses the district's naturalists.

Only 3 Try Queen Title

Only three young ladies have taken out applications for the Miss Antioch Pageant.

All young Antioch ladies between the ages of 16 and 21 are encouraged to set up an interview with Glenda Tomaschik before the June 26 deadline.

The contestants must have an Antioch 395 prefix, have never been married nor done professional modeling. For more information, call Tomaschik at the Parks Office, (312) 395-2160, between 8:30 a.m. and 5 p.m. weekdays.

The Miss Antioch Pageant is the opening festivity of the Old Fashioned Fourth of July Event in Antioch. It is held at 7 p.m. on July 3 at the Pavillion in Williams Parks. The pageant is open to the public, and everyone is encouraged to attend the two-day event.

Library's Override Is As Good As Spent

In last week's Antioch Reporter there was a story touting the fact that the Antioch Twp. Library Board had managed to come in $40,000 under budget as of the end of the library's fiscal year on Jan. 31.

All that was reported was true but the report was not quite up to date according to Library Dir. Cathy LaBuda and that $40,000 carried over is all but spent.

It seems that the board has set aside $15,000 of that $40,000 to go towards a new roof and ceiling that has been badly damaged by a long-time leakage problem, rain or no rain.

The money that is set aside will negate the necessity of a bond referendum to pay for the repairs. Then the board intends to replace the badly worn 20-year-old carpeting at a cost of $20,000.

It also seems that a few bills were received after the end of the fiscal year that will be paid out of that $40,000. A bill for $3,000 for shelving already installed arrived in February and another for $600 for drapes came in in March.

It still looks like the library's budget is in good shape, barring more unforeseen expenses, with a little over $1,000 of that $40,000 still expected to be in the coffers after all of the repairs and replacements are made.

saddened, business clients were angry.

The FBI came up with an indictment when it was revealed that Kelly had done some of his business through the United States mail opening up federal charges against him.

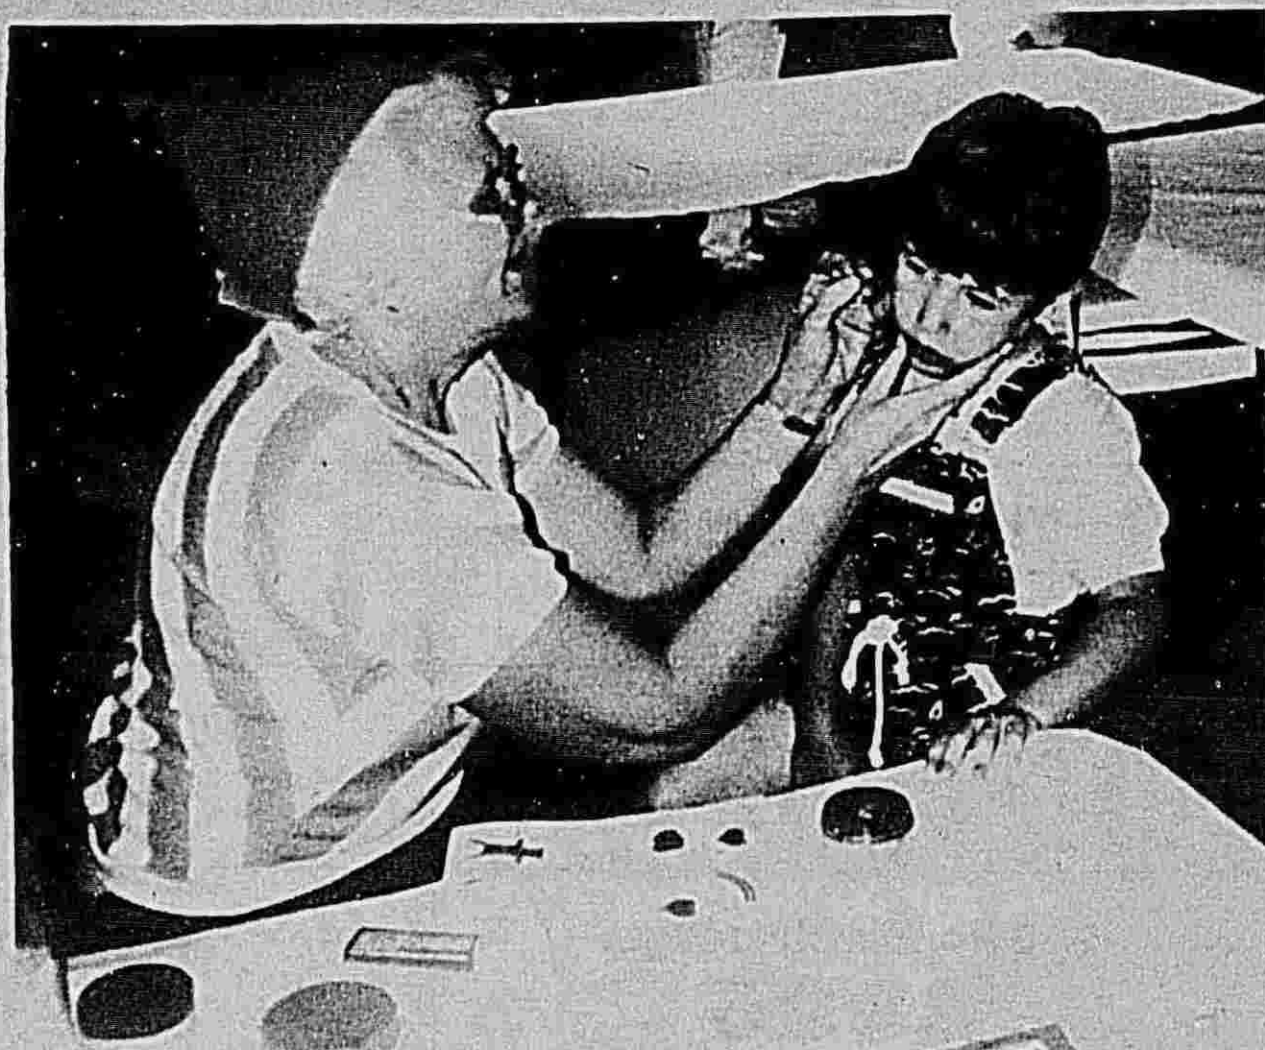

Kelly's wife and children disappeared from the Antioch scene, some leaving the area. At last reports Ann, his wife was working and living in a lakeshore suburb and one his sons was in college in Florida.

Kelly's creditors flocked to the courts and soon his spacious homes in Wisconsin and Florida were sold, as were his yacht and the rest of his assets to partially repay his debts.

Foreman announced that he and his investigators did not think Kelly was dead. "For my money he's somewhere in the Caribbean. Kelly was known to love the islands, especially Grand Cayman which has no extradition.

As of this second anniversary of Kelly's "evaporation," Lake County Assistant State's Atty. Mike Waller says that none of the many rumors about Kelly being seen here or there have materialized. Rumors have had Kelly seen in all parts of the world, from the Caribbean to Saudia Arabia.

"But we still strongly suspect he is alive somewhere," remarks Waller.

Johnsburg Library Offering Program

"I'm bored!" "There's nothing to do!" "No one is home!"

Do these expressions sound familiar? To help cure the 'doldrums,' stop by the Johnsburg Dist. Library and enroll your child in the statewide summer reading program.

This year's theme is "Quest - Journey into Reading."

For six weeks, children will become time travellers in search of endless quests: fantasies, space, historical, etc.

Through the use of books, crafts, films and other media, the reader will have an exciting and adventurous summer.

Awards will be given to each reader. Summer reading and information week is June 8-13 and must be done in person.

Children, ages kindergarten and older, are urged to participate.

For pre-schoolers only, story hours will be included this summer for children ages three to five (not yet in kindergarten).

Two sessions will be held on Mondays at 9:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. Sessions continue for eight weeks, starting June 8 and take 40-45 minutes.

Parents are encouraged to register their children now (June 1-6) for pre-school story hour.

The Johnsburg Dist. Library is located at 2404 Johnsburg Rd., McHenry. Hours are Monday, Wednesday and Thursday, 10 a.m. to 9 p.m.;

Tuesday and Friday, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. and Saturday, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

So instead of saying, "Calgon, take me away!" parents are advised to do themselves a favor as well as their children by taking a "Quest in '87 - Journey into Reading," at the Johnsburg Dist. Library.

2 Grant Students Win Scholarships

Patricia Goscinski and Monica Payne, Grant Community High School students, have won American Cancer Society summer scholarships for 1987.

Goscinski is the daughter of Janet and Alexander Goscinski while Payne is the daughter of Marlies and Elmer Payne.

Goscinski, a sophomore, was accepted to the Condell Hospital Program in Libertyville while Payne, a junior, was tapped by the veteran's administration hospital program in North Chicago.

Honor students, both plan to become a surgeon while Payne is still considering what field to enter.

They plans to use their scholarship to gain first-hand experience in medicine and to refine their knowledge of specific careers, thus enabling them to pick the right college majors.

Taylor Gets Accolade

The Grant Community High School Student of the Month for June is senior Adam Taylor, the son of Jim and Lori Taylor of Ingleside.

Ranked 10th in his class, he has earned a 4.88 grade point average. His academic highlights include National Honor Society member for three years, Illinois State Scholar; member of boys' state and a participant in the National Council of Teachers of English writing contest.

His extra-curricular activities include basketball, four years (all academic one year); tennis four years (all academic two years); and musical lighting technician two years.

He has held summer jobs at a local mini-mart and worked at Chain O' Lakes Marina. In his spare time, he likes to fish, camp and watch TV sports.

He plans to attend the University of Evansville and major in environmental sciences. He'll be honored at the June meeting of the Fox Lake Chamber of Commerce, the guest of Supt. Dr. Donald J. Klusendorf.

Children Rise Early In Summertime

by CAROLYN HAMMOND
(312) 395-6081

"School's out!" the children shout. "Oh, good, I can sleep later," the mothers tell themselves. Wrong! Children who need a cannon to shoot them out of bed during the school year turn into early risers in the summer. Then the familiar cry is, "Mom, make me breakfast!" "Eat a bowl of bridge will be an important part of the one-and-a-half mile Antioch Sequoit Creek nature trail started this spring by the sixth to eighth grade science students. Good going, Brian and kids!

Fond farewells and many thanks to Antioch High School retiring teachers Ward Lear, Richard Elliston, and Roy Nelson, who taught many of us to at 8 a.m. and continue until 5 p.m. Children ages three (completely potty trained) to 12 are eligible to attend. Fees are $45 weekly if a pool member, $60 weekly for non-pool members. Special rates are available for additional children in the family. Among the daily activities planned are field trips, swimming, games and crafts. A big screen TV has been donated by Minnie Pratt for those rainy days, and Kentucky Fried Chicken donated $200 toward the purchase of a VCR.

Among the baseball scores this week we have:

Senior League: McDonald's 22, Here's the Scoop 12.

Girls' softball: Lake Villa 5, Thelen's Sand And Gravel 2; State Bank 22, Pickard China 9; Heath Construction 7, Flo's Hair Care 6.

cereal," you mutter, but by then the noise level has gotten too high for sleep anyway. Think of it this way: You can get a lot accomplished by getting up early and not having to drive the kids around as much. (Wanna bet??)

Speaking of drive, there's an Antioch High School student with a lot of it. Brian Clark, working on an Eagle Scout project for Scout Troop 92, has built a foot bridge across Sequoit Creek at the Antioch Upper Grade School with the help of several other scouts and with the funding of AUGS, the Student Council, Scout Troop 92, Harold Brown, Brian's father, and AUGS teacher Bob Brown. To Look At DUI Cases

Chief Judge of the 19th Judicial Circuit, Lake and McHenry counties; Fred A. Geiger, has appointed a blue ribbon commission to examine the handling of DUI and alcohol related offenses in the court system.

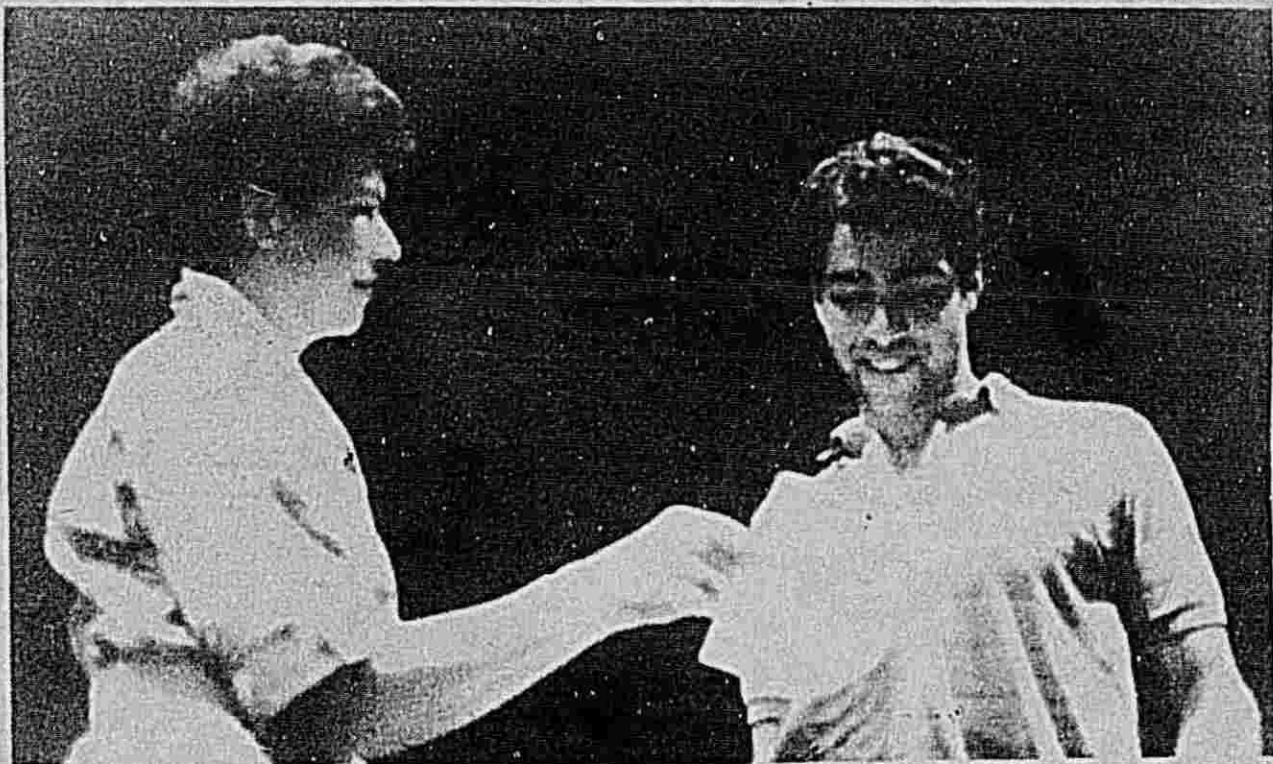

The action comes in light of a recent inquiry by the Illinois Dept. of Alcohol and Substance Abuse regarding assessments, treatment level, and structure of service regarding alcohol related offenses as well as how these cases impact the judicial system.

The mandate of the commission will be to examine the current structure and velocity of case flow in the justice system, vendor usage as to response, location, quality and indigent percentage services, and, finally specific recommendations to the office of chief judge for remodeling or streamlining the current and future court system response and procedures for dealing with these types of cases.

Appointed to the commission are William D. Block, judge; Robert Zastany, court administrator; Michael Fritz, associate judge; William Barron, assistant county administrator; Randall Stewart, assistant state's attorney; Joan Pantisios, assistant public defender; Tom Briscoe, attorney; George Gallagher, director of court services. Appointed chairman is George Gallagher.

Moms Meet

Study Memorabilia

Students in the ACE program at Emmons School have been studying the history of the first buildings in Antioch and duplicating them in miniature. The replicas and written history were displayed during the fine arts program this spring.

Some of the buildings which were studied were: Simons Hotel, Train Depot, Williams Bros. Store, Queen of the West Hotel, Antioch News Building, Dr. Carr's Office and the original Emmons School building.

As a culminating activity, the ACE students took a trip to "Old World Wisconsin" where they read McGuffey Readers in the one-room school house and had an old-fashioned picnic with food from family recipes.

The ACE program (Accelerated Curriculum at Emmons) is designed to enhance and expand learning for academically talented students, grades third through eighth. Students are selected for the programs by a combination of standardized test scores and classroom performance.

The teacher is Patricia Botting. ACE students include: Shelly Comstock, Charlie Miles, Dana Pierson, Jessica Gillengerten, Jane Steffenburg, Reni Towns, Jason Williams, Matt DeMartini, Kelly O'Donnell, D.C. Malson, Erin McCallum, Kristin Pierson, Sandy Durell, Jenny Hawk and Ed Ruck.

ACE sessions are held about twice per week as a "pullout" from the home classroom.

New Center To Handle Child Abuse Probes

A new, Waukegan-based center designed to deal with Lake County child abuse cases is expected to open in mid-July.

The center, due to open in a former house, will offer "a very safe, unthreatening" environment for children, said Laura Notson, who will be the program director.

While the main thrust will be investigating child abuse cases, the center will also train persons involved in that area and promote prevention work.

Notson, a victim assistance counselor, said that the center is being created through a joint effort of the state's attorney's office, law enforcement agencies and the department of children and family services.

Notson said that the center will offer major improvements in the interviewing process and location.

Children involved in possible abuse cases now have to undergo as many as six different interviews.

Under the new program, a team composed of a law officer and member of the department of children and family services will handle the case.

Children will also be interviewed at the center instead of the police station where they might witness an unpleasant environment.

At the center, located just north of the courthouse, interview rooms will be decorated with age-appropriate decor.

Notson said that planners chose Waukegan because they were seeking a centralized location. But she added that child abuse cases occur across Lake County.

She said that the Lake Villa office of the department of children and family services has been helpful in setting up the program.

Leading the effort to set up the program is the staff of State's Attorney Fred Foreman.

The Lake County Board is being asked to allocate funding from federal fees which have already been collected.

The federal government pays the county a 12 percent commission for support payments handled by the state's attorney's staff.

About $50,000 comes in each year from those payments and $120,000 has come in to date.

The Lake County Board is expected to make a final decision on the program June 8.

The program will cost about $10,000 the first year, mostly for housing. Salaries of personnel will be paid by their respective agencies.

The separate location, meanwhile, stems from the National Children's Advocacy Center in Huntsville, Ala.

The nation's first, that center is dedicated to eliminating re-abuse. The center has a trained team with members from each of the involved agencies.

In Lake County, formation of a center was recommended in the report of a 50-person task force that studied the problem in a year-long study.

Notson said that child victims can lead normal lives if the process is properly handled.

Children are reassured that the abuse was not their fault and that they are heroes for coming forward.

Reports of child abuse have quadrupled in Lake County over the past four years.

Last year, 16 persons were charged with child sexual abuse in Lake County. Five were convicted, one was acquitted and three cases are pending.

Studies show that often adults who sexually abuse were themselves abused as children.

Westchester Estate Homes To Be Ready By Fall

Home buyers already have purchased 25 percent of the 101 semi-custom single-family homes at Westchester Estates, a community developed by Scarsdale Homes in northwestern suburban Buffalo Grove. First deliveries are expected in early fall.

"Sales in Buffalo Grove have been very successful," said Frank Morelli, president of Scarsdale. "We won't have models at the site for three or four months, but that hasn't hampered business."

Westchester Estates features 21 elevations from 10 floor plans, ranging in size from approximately 2,000 to 3,100 square feet. The three- and four-bedroom homes are priced from $170,000 including basement.

"This is one of the first semi-custom communities in Buffalo Grove," he said. "Many of the lot sizes are a quarter-acre-plus, with 80 front feet. That's uncommon in this area."

All lots at Westchester Estates are a minimum of 70 feet wide. Many of the home sites will feature views of a multi-acre park or a man-made lake.

Kitchens in Scarsdale homes offer a choice of cabinetry with soffits, self-edged Formica countertops, gas oven and range, dishwasher and food disposer.

Baths feature vanities with self-rimmed bowls and ceramic tile floor and tub surrounds.

Scarsdale homes include wall-to-wall carpeting and no-wax floors, wood windows; thermal wood sliding doors to the patio and custom-stained cased doors.

"This is one of the first communities in Buffalo Grove to feature cedar siding and brick exteriors included in the purchase price," said Morelli.

Options include whirlpool tubs, mirrored doors, recessed lighting, ceramic tile kitchen floors and masonry exteriors.

Rate Hike Not Hampering Home-Resale Market

Baird and Warner's resale-home volume for 1987 has been record-breaking through April compared with the 1986 figure, despite buyer confusion about mortgage interest rates that caused a dip in the number of April sales.

Residential sales totaled $409,786,874 on 3,283 transactions for the year-to-date, a one percent increase in sales volume and a 12 percent decrease in participations, it was reported by Alex F. March, sales manager of the Libertyville area office at 1113 S. Milwaukee (Forum Square II).

April residential sales totaled $112,389,375 on 883 transactions, respective decreased of 16 percent and 26 percent over April 1986 figures.

"When mortgage interest rates jumped 1.2 percent in less than a week, home-buying prospects started to take a deep breath," said March, adding: "Many decided to wait and see that would happen. What is happening is that rates already are down from the 10.6 percent high quoted. That's still comparable to the rate level in 1986, an excellent year, and lower than the 1985 rate."

"That rate has already dropped, but what the new stable low will be is anybody's guess."

Non-residential sales generated by the company's corporate group for the year-to-date, totaled 41,936,315 on 150 transactions, a 10 percent dip in dollar volume and a seven percent rise in participation.

April non-residential sales totaled $9,039,463 on 44 transactions, respective increases of 16 percent and 63 percent over April 1986 figures. The totals represent sales of commercial and industrial property, vacant land and apartment investment.

Combined residential and non-residential sales for the year-to-date total $451,723,189 on 3,433 transactions, a slight increase in volume over 1986 and an 11 percent decrease in transactions. Combined sales in April totaled $121,428,838 on 927 participations, respective decreases of 14 percent and 24 percent.

New Construction Sales Posting Hefty Increases

Families have been buying newly-built homes in the Chicagoland area at a record pace. Coldwell Banker Real Estate-Chicago/Milwaukee reports its sales of new construction in 1986 jumped 75 percent over 1985, and 1987 sales are already up 30 percent over 1986 for the first quarter alone.

Buyers are choosing new construction because of the opportunities building offers for obtaining their dream homes. Additionally, more services are now available to facilitate the buying process. One such specialized program offered by Coldwell Banker brings together prospective buyers and qualified builders, resulting in greater customer satisfaction and increased business for home builders.

Coldwell Banker's Builder Services program has been designed to act as a liaison between area builders and real estate brokers by helping builders quickly sell their products, and brokers to better serve their clients in their search for new homes.

According to Coldwell Banker's vice president/director of builder services, Bob Verbic, who was instrumental in the development of the firm's broker participation efforts, such programs are relatively new to the Chicago area.

"Historically, the brokerage and home builder communities in Chicagoland haven't worked together as frequently as they do in other areas of the country," Verbic explained. "In the Washington, D.C. area, Denver, Colo., and the southwest, for example, brokers typically account for 70 to 80 percent—and sometimes all—of a builder's new home sales. So I asked myself, 'Why can't it work here, too?'"

Since Coldwell Banker's Builder Services was launched in 1984, Verbic and the program's staff of 40 professional coordinators have developed relationships with more than 40 builders of both single and multi-family new home communities throughout the Chicago and Milwaukee areas, including seven of the top 10 in Illinois. Additionally, they are on the heels of a record sales year, helping 871 families buy new homes in 1986, a 75 percent leap over the 499 new homes purchased through the program in 1985.

Verbic attributes the program's growth and success over the past year to favorable home mortgage interest rates, which pushed record numbers of first-time buyers and upgraders into the marketplace, as well as to the "acceptance by both the residential brokerage and builder communities of this comprehensive and fully-integrated plan."

"Without the aid of a broker co-op program," Verbic maintains, "builders get their customers primarily through advertising and reputation. And they usually advertise in sections of the newspapers containing all new construction ads. So those buyers not specifically selling out to buy new homes tend to skip over these sections."

"The case is similar for real estate brokers," Verbic continued. "They often come across buyers who would like to purchase a new home, but don't know how to go about looking for one. Through a broker co-op program, the real estate agent knows exactly who to contact to help the customer find a new home in the area and price range they want."

But the services of this program extend beyond matching prospective new home buyers with builders. Their role as liaison continues throughout the entire transaction, ranging from creating market plans and disseminating promotional materials for the builder when a new housing development is first conceived, to serving as "middle man" when a deal is being closed.

"When a builder takes a deposit on a home and removes that home from the marketplace, for example, he needs to know that the prospective buyer's existing home will sell," Verbic said. "By working with the buyer's real estate agent, we are in a position to provide the builder with that necessary feedback. And through our relationship with the builder, we are able to relay such information as construction progress to the buyer's real estate broker."

Linda Fanti, director of sales and marketing for Anden Corp., which specializes in both commercial and residential development, said that working with the Builder Services program has helped to provide her firm with a strong referral base.

"Not only have they brought us a large number of contracts to work with, but they also provide services that facilitate an easy transition for our customers between the sale of their existing home to their Anden home."

Similarly, Ray A. Wolford, vice president, sales and marketing for Town and Country Homes, related that it is because of such services that his company utilizes the broker participation program.

"For a company our size and stature, we feel it is important to affiliate with an established real estate firm equal in stature," Wolford explained.

We see an additional 30 percent in sales as a result of Builder Services," he continued. "We chose them because of their reputation, but we've kept them for their support and full range of services."

Coldwell Banker is the nation's largest full-service real estate company and part of the Sears Financial Network.

Membership in the club, which honors the company's outstanding middle management personnel, is based on policy sales and service during the past year. Only 56 of the company's more than 450 unit managers nationwide qualify.

First National Of Waukegan Promotes Two

The Board of Directors of the First National Bank of Waukegan has announced the promotion of John Rosin to assistant vice-president and Lori Mortensen to real estate loan officer of the bank. Rosin joined First National in 1985 as a commercial loan officer. A Wheeling resident, he serves on the board of directors of the United Way of Lake County. Mortensen, a Waukegan resident, joined First National Bank in 1985 as a commercial loan secretary, and has also held the position of real estate loan processor.

We help people in all walks of life.

Nothing is ever the same after a heart attack. But while most people fear the worst, with the right kind of exercise program . . . and the right kind of lifestyle adjustments . . . many patients return to their jobs and their families even healthier than before.

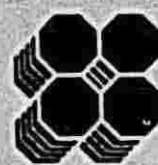

The Cardiac Rehabilitation staff at Northern Illinois Medical Center is specially trained to help these people take the first steps toward resuming full and active lives. We understand not only the medical and physical aspects of rehabilitative care, but also the emotional component so vital to a patient's complete recovery.

Like helping a man who marched through rain, snow, sleet and hail every day for forty years realize the importance of one 10-minute jaunt on the treadmill.

Rehearse Yankees

Waukegan Community Players will present the musical "Damn Yankees!" on June 5, 6, 7 and 12 and 13, at the Melba Wixom Auditorium, East Campus, Waukegan at 8 p.m. except Sunday, June 7 at 3 p.m.

"Damn Yankees!" is the spirited story of one man's fight to win the pennant for the Washington Senators. In fact, Joe Boyd, the hero, trades his soul to the devil, Mr. Applegate, to be the long ball hitter for the Senators.

The story is full of twists and turns and beautiful tunes, "You Gotta Have Heart," "Whatever Lola Wants, Lola Gets," and "Two Lost Souls."

Waukegan Community Players is again offering a dinner/theater package with Madison Avenue Restaurant. A choice of three entrees, fine wines available, a fine show—and all at a great price, dinners at $12.50, a ticket for the show is $6 for adults, $5 for seniors, students and the military.

For more information call Arva Wallace at (312) 623-5155.

'Rumor Has It' Tickles Lunch Crowds' Fancies

by GLORIA DAVIS

If entertainment is made up of both fact and fantasy, and if the adding of familiar-sounding Broadway music and more than a touch of laughter, enhances that entertainment, then the luncheon theater offering now showing through November at the Holiday Park Theater, at Holiday Park Resort in Ingleside, is Entertainment with a capital E.

Ed Pratt, who has been starring at the Holiday Park Theater in original musicals for the last few years, is back as the male part of the one man — one woman musical comedy "Rumor Has It" that has been pleasing luncheon crowds for months at Holiday Park.

Pratt's female counterpart, Nancy Potter, though a familiar name and face in Lake County theatrics, is new to Holiday Park audiences.

These two seasoned performers come on Holiday's stage like an entire repertoire company as they dance and sing there way through many musical vignettes based on the why's and wherefores of the different stages of a serious relationship between a man and woman.

"Rumor Has It," also has an original script penned by the two performers, giving freshness and a new twist to a tried and true plot that surrounds music from some of Broadway's finest.

As to the types of relationships so amusingly and melodiously dealt with in "Rumors," any audience can identify with our couple as they move from their meeting and the feeling of challenge and newness, through the sexual tenseness of courtship, to the trial and tribulations of marriage and the threat of divorce.

Love — mistrust, passion — suspicion, all leading to one of mankind's favorite pastimes, tongue wagging or gossiping.

Potter and Pratt challenge the audience to differentiate between fact and fiction as the resulting tales fly fast and furiously and enjoyably.

The enthusiasm, zest, and just plain downright all-around talent of these two performers draws applause, laughter and cheers from everyone of their audiences.

Potter's belting contralto does more than justice to Broadway's best as she adds to her long list of theatrical credits that spans stages from Michigan, to New York with a longer list of appearances in northern Illinois between.

She has played everything from a very memorable Mama Rose in Woodstock Musical Theater Co.'s "Gypsy", and a solo performance in "All On Her Own," a one woman show, in Adrian, Mich., to Tannily in "Alert" at Marriott Lincolnshire Theater.

She has also done walkons for movies, national tv movies and series.

Potter has also dabbled in costume designing and directing.

Pratt, who has lent his baritone to two previous shows at Holiday Park, along with Sandra Smith, "And the Moon Blushes," and "Happy Ending," has also played with the Elgin Players, St. Charles Playmakers, Players of Schaumburg and more, in parts like Littlechap in "Stop the World, I Want to Get Off," Pappy Yokum in "Lil' Abner, Prince Dauntless in "Once Upon a Mattress," to emoting as Napoleon in Chicago's Gill Theater production of "Man of Destiny."

Woodstock Opera House To Hold Premiere Play

Robert Perillo, artistic director of WoodFest '87, has announced the following cast of actors to be part of the Summer Music Theatre Festival produced by WoodFest in collaboration with the Woodstock Opera House from June 10 to July 19, at the Woodstock Opera House:

Deirdre Lovejoy, Amy McDonald, Joseph O'Brien, Mark Piatelli, Peter Schmitz, Kerry Thompson and Angela Vitale will appear in the midwestern premiere of "The Wake of Jamey Foster" by Beth Hanley and a Chicago premiere of "Salford Road," a musical for all ages.

The original music for both plays has been composed by New York composer Richard Isen.

"Salford Road" will be directed by David Petrarca, who comes to Woodstock from Washington, D.C. and who will direct at the Goodman Theatre in Chicago next season.

"The Wake of Jamey Foster" will be directed by WoodFest artistic director Robert Perillo. Both plays were rehearsed in New York City before coming to Woodstock for final rehearsals on June 1.

Tickets are now on sale at the Woodstock Opera House box office; call (815) 338-5300.

Tickets are also available at all Ticketron outlets and through Teletron, (312) 853-3636, (800) 843-1558, Wisconsin and Indiana.

Circus Train Is Coming

With steam spouting and smoke soaring from vintage locomotive No. 1385, the Strong Great Circus Train will make its annual journey of joy from the Circus World Museum at Baraboo, Wis., to downtown Milwaukee on July 7 and 8 to start the one and only week of the Great Circus Parade.

Sponsored for the second consecutive year by Strong Funds, Milwaukee-based money management firm, the half-mile-long train will leave Baraboo at 9 a.m. Tuesday and shudder to a stop at 5:30 p.m. Wednesday at the parade showgrounds on Milwaukee's lakefront.

The flatcars will carry a priceless cargo of more than 75 resplendently restored antique circus wagons on an unhurried "showoff" journey through Wisconsin and northern Illinois towns and hamlets over the tracks of the Chicago and North Western Railroad. At the showgrounds, the wagons will be unloaded for three days of public display before starting as the featured attraction in the Great Circus Parade through downtown Milwaukee Sunday afternoon, July 12.

"All of us at Strong Funds are proud to present this unique spectacle of nostalgia and Americana," said Richard S. Strong, chairman of Strong/Corneliuson Capital Management, Inc.

"There is nothing to match the circus train anywhere in America, and we hope our sponsorship of this unrivaled caravan on rails demonstrates our corporate commitment to encourage the best in Milwaukee and Wisconsin."

Volunteer parade organizer Ben Barkin, Milwaukee public relations executive, called the Strong Funds sponsorship of the circus train vital to the success of the circus parade itself.

"It's a marvelous prelude to the big parade, a special entertainment feature in its own right that sets the stage for the magnificent climax of parade Sunday," said Barkin.

Throughout the journey from Baraboo to Milwaukee, a crew of Chicago and North Western personnel will coddle the colorful cargo.

"We'll make sure the circus wagons arrive safe and sound, ready to roll in the parade," said CNW spokesman Frank Jenko.

The two-day, 222-mile rail procession of circus wagons will include Tuesday stops in the Wisconsin communities of Lodi, Madison, Evansville and Janesville as the train slowly steams along a route that will pass through Devil's Lake, Dance, Waunakee, Mendota, Oregon, Brooklyn and Evansville.

After overnighing at Janesville, the train will go through Tiffany, Clinton and Sharon Wednesday before entering Illinois for stops at Harvard, Crystal Lake, Arlington Heights and Highland Park.

Along the way it will pass through the Illinois communities of Hartland, Woodstock, Ridgefield, Cary, Fox River Grove, Barrington, Palatine, Arlington Park, Mount Prospect, Des Plaines, Deerfield, Lake Bluff, Great Lakes, North Chicago, Waukegan, Zion and Winthrop Harbor.

Then it's back into Wisconsin for stops at Kenosha and Racine and non-stop viewing at Oak Creek, South Milwaukee, Cudahy and St. Francis before arriving at the Milwaukee showgrounds.

In true circus tradition, teams of Percheron horses will be used to load the circus wagons aboard the flatcars in Baraboo on Sunday and Monday, July 5 and 6, and unload in Milwaukee.

After the Great Circus Parade, the wagons will be loaded back on the train Monday and Tuesday, July 13 and 14, and return to Baraboo along the same CNW route, arriving back home Wednesday, July 15.

It was one of the last steamers to succumb to the diesel age, making its final run in 1956. It was purchased in 1961 by the Mid-Continent Railway Historical Society of North Freedom, Wis.

Laketown Buskers Will Bring Energy To Adler

The Laketown Buskers, a talented and versatile stringband based in Chicago, will bring their energetic repertoire of bluegrass, swing, and country blues to the David Adler Cultural Center for two shows, at 7:30 and 9:30 p.m., on Friday, June 5.

In addition to Collin McCoy, an Illinois State Fiddle Champion, the Buskers include Bob Stelnicki, Eric Mohring, and Barbara Silverman. Among them they play fiddle, mandolin, banjo, washtub bass, spoons, bones, saw and guitar.

The Buskers have played at festivals and concerts throughout the midwest, and have also appeared on "A Prairie Home Companion."

Opening both shows will be Lee Murdock, a longtime friend of Adler, who plays traditional and contemporary folk music on guitar.

Admission is $5 for adults, $4.50 for members, $2 for senior citizens and children six through 12, and free for children under six.

For more information, call the David Adler Cultural Center, 1700 N. Milwaukee Ave., Libertyville, (312) 367-0707.

Set June Dog Days For Top Breed Awards

Dog fanciers from all over the U.S. and Canada look forward to June 12 through 14 with excitement and anticipation. This weekend provides competition for amateur and professional dog handlers, breeders, pet owners, and everyone who enjoys watching pure-bred dogs at their best.

Almost 5,000 dogs, representing over 120 breeds, will be competing for the top prizes in all-breed and specialty shows being held throughout the Chicagoland area.

The competition begins Friday, June 12 at 8 a.m. with the Skokie Valley Kennel Club All-Breed Dog Show. This show will be held outdoors at the College of Lake County in Grayslake.

On Saturday, June 13, individual breed clubs will have specialty dogs shows at different locations in and around Chicago. The largest of the shows is sponsored by the Great Lakes Terrier Assn. Over 800 entries from 15 different terrier breeds will be competing indoors at the Lake County Fairgrounds beginning at 8 a.m.

The final competition of the weekend will be held Sunday, June 14 at the 37th annual Chain O'Lakes Kennel Club All-Breed Dog Show. This show will also be held at the fairgrounds from 8 a.m. until one dog remains in the judging as best in show.

For more information, contact Lee Lehrer, secretary, Great Lakes Terrier Assn., 16212 W. Gages Lake Rd., Libertyville, 60048, (312)680-8792.

Call For Picking Times

Strawberry season in the stateline area will soon be starting. The Lakeland Fruit Growers Assn. advises everyone to make plans now to take full advantage of the offerings to come.

Strawberries are wonderful by themselves, on ice cream, mixed in a salad or topped off on a strawberry shortcake. Freezing strawberries for future use is easy and it makes a great treat for out of season desserts. Freezer jam is also an easy-to-make treat.

Persistent Lump

A lump or thickening in the breast or elsewhere could be a warning of cancer, says the American Cancer Society. Don't guess. Have your physician check it out as part of your regular cancer examination.

The Lakeland Fruit Growers Assn. has several grower members whose farms will offer "U-pick" and pre-picked strawberries.

Calling the farm in advance is suggested, to find out about picking conditions and times.

Illinois farms include: Wauconda Orchards, 1201 Gossell Rd., Wauconda, (312)526-8553 (picking begins June 10); Tom's Vegetable Market, Huntley, (312)669-3421; Powells Apple Barn, Woodstock, (815)338-0736; Susie's Garden Patch, Garden Prairie, (815)597-3011; McCann's Berry Farm, Woodstock, (815)338-8810; Nielsen's Berry Farm, Round Lake, (312)740-0011. Wisconsin farms include Thompson's Berry Farm, Bristol, (414)857-2353;

Premium Green Farms, (414)728-3266; Frey's Berry Patch, Delavan.

Rehearse 'Luv' With Music

The Kinetic Theatre Co. concludes its 1986-87 season with the award-winning musical comedy "What About...Luv?," opening on June 25, through Aug. 2, at the Centre East Studio Theatre in Skokie.

Adapted from Murray Schisgal's long-running Broadway hit, "Luv," this is a musical with the bite and wit of the original play with the added edge of a fast-paced score.

"What About...Luv?" is a tongue-in-cheek treatment of love, marriage, divorce, infidelity, in all its human frailties and follies.

A smash hit in London and the winner of the Outer Circle Drama Critics Award in 1984, the musical is a Chicago-area premiere.

The show stars New York import Phil LaDuca, fresh from a long run in "The Little Shop of Horrors," Edward J. Wilson, who starred in "Godspell" at the Ivanhoe Theatre, and Bayla Sussman, last seen here in the National Jewish Theatre Production of "Green Fields."

This production will be directed by Kinetic Theatre Artistic Director Leon Palles. For information and advance reservations, call (312) 677-1460.

ROCK TRACKS

By Rob Ferrus

Sly Dunbar and Robbie Shakespeare, who Rolling Stone call "the best rhythm section in Jamaica," just released their second album, "Rhythm Killers," on Island Records. The first Sly and Robbie album, "Language Barrier," garnered the duo a Grammy nomination.

The collection of guest artists on the new Sly and Robbie LP boggles the mind: guitarist Bootsy Collins, who Dunbar refers to as "the real funk"; Gary "Mudbone" Cooper, former vocalist of Parliament/Funkadelic (heard most recently on the Top Ten pop hit "Let's Go All The Way" by his current duo Sly Fox; D.S.T., the scratcher whose work was central to Herbie Hancock's breakthrough cut "Rocket"; and rappers Shinehead (a Jamaican currently living in New York) and Rammellzee. The producer of the project is Bill Laswell, who handled the recent Mick Jagger solo album.

At the risk of creating a family feud I'll mention that Janet Jackson has broken and is still burying brother Michael's record for the longest continuous run on the charts with singles from one album. As of this writing, Janet has been on for 65 weeks with singles from her "Control" LP. Michael was on the charts for 64 weeks.

During the first of two nights of performances at Worcester's Centrum Auditorium, Billy Idol and his band broke into an encore of The Doors' "L.A. Woman." In a heated moment, Idol dropped his pants a la Jim Morrison. Now everyone knows why he grins so much. ©1987, McNaught Synd.

Plan Last Barn Dance

The David Adler Cultural Center's last barn dance of the current concert season will be on Saturday, June 6, at 8 p.m. at the American Legion Hall, 715 N. Milwaukee Ave., Libertyville.

The It's Fer Reel Stringband will provide the music, aided and abetted by caller Tony Scarimbolo. Each dance is walked through first, so newcomers need not be shy about kicking up their heels.

Admission is $3 for adults, $2 for senior citizens and children six through 12, and free for children under six.

The David Adler Cultural Center, 1700 N. Milwaukee Ave., Libertyville, is a non-profit organization. For more information, call (312) 367-0707.

Liars Club Starts Out As Biggest Lie Of All

The nationally-known Burlington Liars' Club is rightly named.

Now only does the club annually pick the "World's Champion Liar"—the fellows who promoted it were lying when they said there was a club!

News was scarce in Burlington just before New Year's of 1929, so a couple of reporters decided they would have some fun (and fill some space) by concocting a story to the effect that the police chief and a bunch of his friends got together at the police station each year, on New Year's Day, and lied for the championship of Burlington.

The only thing which was true about their story was the fact that a group of the chief's friends were in the habit of stopping in daily at the station—and many of the stories they told about "the good old days," when they were boys, seemed to the reporters to deal with the truth rather recklessly.

Wire services picked up the story, and the following year queried to find out if the "liar's contest" would be repeated.

The situation presented too good a chance to have fun to be overlooked, so a second story was put out. The American people are blessed with a sense of humor, and so it was inevitable that people began to write, sending in their lies.

So it was decided that as long as people thought Burlington had a Liars' Club, it might as well have one, and the club was formed with Hubert (Pink) Schenning, Gilbert A. Karcher, L.J. Stang, E.J. Cook and O.C. Hulet.

In 1931, 1932 and 1933 the contest was conducted for the championship of the United States. Since 1934, it has picked the "World's Champion Liar."

What makes the Burlington Liars Club a club? It has no meetings, no social affairs, no dues, no constitution.

Well, the Liars do have one unwritten law: Politicians are barred from membership because the Liars don't want any "professionals" in their ranks. To become a member, all anyone has to do is send in a lie plus an initiation fee of one dollar (no checks, please). The address is Burlington Liars Club, Burlington, Wis., 53105.

Aquarium Schedules Films

Weekend visitors to the Shedd Aquarium in Chicago can enjoy free films throughout the day in the Aquatic Science Center.

Films are shown hourly, on the half hour, beginning at 10:30 a.m.

"The Everglades Region:

An Ecological Study" is scheduled for June 6 and 7. "Hunters in the Reef" is also slated for these dates.

"A Swamp Ecosystem" is on the agenda for June 13 and 14, as is a repeat of "Hunters in the Reef."

"Silent Forest" is the film scheduled for June 20 and 21, dealing with giant kelp plants beneath the ocean's surface stretching along the Pacific coastline of North America, forming a unique forest where thousands of animal species live and die.

On June 27 and 28, "Fairy Penguins" will be shown, exploring the southern oceans around Australia and New Zealand where the world's smallest penguins live, making their homes in coastal rookeries.

The Shedd Aquarium, located at 1200 S. Lake Shore Dr., Chicago, is open daily from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Divers hand-feed fish daily in the 90,000-gallon Coral Reef Exhibit at 11 a.m., 2 p.m. and 3 p.m.

Admission is $2 for adults, $1 for children ages six to 17, and 50 cents for senior citizens. Thursday is free to all.

Loop Scooping To Be Big In Waukegan

The Lake County Family YMCA, in conjunction with the City of Waukegan, has announced the second reunion for Scoop the Loop.

Lake County State's Atty. Fred Foreman is the general chairman again for this year's event.

"We are hoping to provide a fun time for Scoop the Loop participants, as well as to provide necessary funding to complete the building campaign for our new Lake County YMCA," said Foreman.

The festivities will begin Thursday, June 11, at the Genesee Theatre with a Ronnie Rice show hosted by WGN radio personality Bob Collins. A reception from 5 to 8 p.m. will be hosted at no charge by the YMCA for concert attendees.

On Friday, June 12, there will be a ribbon cutting ceremony at 6 p.m. on Genesee St., hosted by Waukegan Mayor Robert Sabonian.

Open scooping will continue throughout the evening. On Saturday, an antique car show, art show and food fair will take place in downtown Waukegan. On Saturday night, the many activities will include a dance and a 6 p.m. parade of hotrods and antique cars. Parade participants will be charged at $5 to scoop.

Vendors participating in this event will include the Burgundy Room in Waukegan, Madison Avenue Restaurant, the Waukegan Moose, the Council on Senior Citizens, Arnold's Drive-In, and Leno's Subs. Many other local businesses will also participate.

People interested in becoming involved with the YMCA and these activities should contact John Sefren at (312)360-YMCA for details.

Benefit To Help Research

Sports stars, media personalities and other dignitaries will participate in the second annual NutraSweet Classic, a golf and tennis event benefiting Juvenile Diabetes Foundation.

The NutraSweet Classic will be held June 29 at Kemper Lakes Golf Club, Hawthorn Woods. All proceeds from the event, being underwritten by The NutraSweet Company of Skokie, will go toward diabetes research.

"It is an honor to be associated with such a worthwhile event," Bears tight end Emery Moorehead said.

"Over 11 million Americans are affected by diabetes, and researchers desperately need the funds generated at this tournament."

The corporate chairman for the NutraSweet Classic is Donald Perkins, former president of Jewel Companies, Inc.

In 'Curious Savage'

Tracy Kiederlein, Antioch, as Florence and MichEAL Smouse, Antioch as John Thomas, rehearse scene in Pallette, Masque and Lyre's "Curious Savage."

'Savage' Good Comedy Fare

BY BILL DOTSON

"Sane people in insane places" is a famous quotation and also a popular theme on many tv shows, in movies and stageplays. The current production at the PM&L Theatre in Antioch is one such play. "The Curious Savage", by John Patrick, a clever and sympathetic heroine. She also deftly delivers several funny sarcastic zingers aimed at Lily Belle.

That role is played to the hilt by the talented Linda Kaye Williams with a nastiness that Dynasty's Joan Collins might envy.

Critic's Choice In... Lakeland tells the story of a person confined to a mental institution who doesn't really belong there.

While it doesn't have the power of "One Flew Over The Cuckoo's Nest", it does deal with similar subjects and ideas in a thought-provoking way. "Savage" has a lighter touch than "Cuckoo" - the hospital is presented as a comfortable, almost pleasant place and there are no evil nurses - but both plays deal with the question of who's to say what's crazy and what isn't.

That may be a serious question but "Savage" is a comedy and much humor can be found in it. The laughs come mainly from the ways in which the heroine, Mrs. Savage, with some help from her fellow patients, foils the schemes of her stepchildren who have had her committed for their own selfish purposes.

Under the capable direction of PM&L veteran Ken Smouse, the cast, for the most part, does a commendable job of bringing the characters to life. Connie Sturm plays the title role of Mrs. Savage with just the right amount of restraint, as Katharine Kramer, in the role of the bubbly and insecure Fairy May, comes across as very exuberant. Deane Jones, as the introverted Mrs. Paddy, has a funny bit in which she recites a long list of all the things she hates three times - listing entirely different things each time.

Lon Jones, who was so sinister as the husband-in "Gaslight", is again very good as the cold-hearted Titus. Rosline Trusky is convincingly professional and understanding as Dr. Emmett. Along with these standouts, the rest of the cast is in fine form as well.

This reviewer would also like to commend PM&L for the renovation that has been done on their theatre. Whether this has any connection to that is unknown, but the acoustics are excellent. I watched the show from a seat in the balcony and even the quietest dialogue could be clearly heard.

"The Curious Savage" runs at the PM&L on Main St. in Antioch on June 5, 6, 7, 12, and 13 at 8 p.m. and also at 2:30 p.m. on the June 7.

Offer Boat Course

The U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary will offer a six-lesson, six-week course on boating safety beginning June 10.

The course will run from 7 to 9 p.m. for six consecutive Wednesdays, and will be held at the fire station at 410 Washington St. in Ingleside. For more information, call (312) 546-4742.

State Grant To Boost Tourism

A $29,973 state grant has been announced to help promote tourism, focusing on the Fox River Valley.

Making the announcement was Sen. Adeline J. Geo-Karis (R-Zion) who noted that funds will go to the Fox River-Chain O'Lakes Tourism and Recreation Council.

Subsequently, the council will develop a regional marketing plan designed to inform Illinoisans and residents of other states about recreational opportunities.

The council is expected to contract with a professional for development of this plan.

PAT'S PIZZA & SANDWICHES SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT

Pat's Pizza is proud to salute its 1987 graduating seniors.

At Pat's Pizza we hire many young people and one of the more pleasurable benefits is witnessing these young men and women mature to adulthood. Our hours are not always convenient and our standards are high and demanding. Many teenagers are just not ready to make a commitment to work. Few who start at Pat's as Sophomores or Juniors survive the rigor of employment through their graduating year. I can proudly state that those who survive "are" and "know how to":

1. Work with the public with a smile and pleasant attitude
2. Have the ability to adapt to changing conditions
3. Can work as a team player
4. Honest and trustworthy
5. Proud of who they are and what they have accomplished
6. Intelligent decision makers
7. A credit to their families

PATRICK CASHER

Patrick came to Pat's Pizza during his sophomore year in 1985. From the beginning, he demonstrated eagerness for learning and discipline for achieving. His performance has been one of excellence. Patrick, this past wrestling season proved to me his intelligence of what's important in life. Patrick had an excellent opportunity to travel downstate to compete and grapple with the best in the state of Illinois. He could have gone for the glory, gratification and recognition, instead, he chose to withdraw from competition. Several days after his decision, I asked "Why?". His response was, "I wrestled hard for two years. I learned and accomplished what I wanted to achieve from the sport." Pat Casher was winning "the game" for himself: he had won inner peace. Like the preceding superstars, he will be missed this fall when he enters college. Thank you, Patrick.

BRENDA KASPER

Brenda started earlier this year at Pat's. She creates great tasting sandwiches, masterfully builds scrumptious pizzas and performs the art of food preparation like a pro. Brenda at this time is unsure of her future plans. We, at Pat's are truly delighted to have her with us. Thank you, Brenda.

The staff at Pat's Pizza & Sandwiches wishes our graduates and all 1987 graduates the best in their future.

Guitar Music At Adler

The David Adler Cultural Center's final concert of the 1986-87 season will feature traditional music played and sung by Doug and Bonnie Isaacson-Miller on Saturday, June 20.

With guitar, banjo, autoharp, fiddle and voices, they perform homemade and heartmade music. Their material includes midwestern, Illinois and historic songs and tunes that span more than 200 years of American history.

Opening both shows will be Stu Halliday, another Adler favorite, playing traditional and contemporary folk music on guitar and banjo.

Concert admission is $5 for adults, $4.50 for members,

Champs To Ski

More than 300 water ski champions will compete in teams at the Lambs' 22nd Annual Water Ski Show Tournament beginning at 8 a.m. on Father's Day, June 21, on Lambs Lake in Libertyville.

Also planned for the day is an all-day country music concert featuring the best country music bands in the Midwest.

The Lambs' tournament is one of three tournaments comprising the triple crown of water ski team competition and has been sanctioned by the American Water Ski Assn. as a class A tournament.

Eight ski clubs with U.S. national champion skiers will compete in a variety of trick acts including barefooting, kite flying, jumping and pyramid formation. World Champ Barefoot Skier Mike Seipel will also execute his award-winning performance.

Among the many water ski pros attending the tournament, Steve Combs, executive director of the American Water Ski Assn., will also be on hand. Combs' involvement with water skiing has been instrumental in entering the sport into the 1992 Summer

Olympic games for the first time ever.

Water ski clubs competing in the Lambs' tournament are Aquanauts, Twin Lakes, Wis.; Backwater Gamblers, Rock Island; Badgerland Water Ski Club, Merton, Wis.; Capital City Ski Team, Madison; Rock Aqua Jays, Janesville, Wis.; Ski Broncos, Rockford; and White Water Lake Sports Club. Prizes will be awarded based on American Water Ski Assn. judges' decisions.

Children can meet world-famous Bozo's Circus clowns Cookie and Wizzo, who will be on the farm all day. The whole family can treat dad to Father's Day brunch at the Lambs Country Inn from 11 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. Each dad will receive a complimentary stein of beer or glass of wine with his meal. Between acts, spectators can visit The Lambs' Country Shops. Admission is free.

The Lambs, located at the junction of I-94 and Rte. 176 in Libertyville, is a non-profit community where mentally retarded adults work and live. For more information, call The Lambs' Special Events Hotline at (312) 362-6774.

Slates Interesting Summer

Many things are going on at the Field Museum in Chicago this summer.

The Field Museum inaugurates an exciting new series of film from around the world. From Brazil to Australia and New Zealand, "After Hours: Films At The Field," offers an uninhibited series of free international films, Friday evenings in June and July.

"Bye Bye Brazil" will open the June series on Friday, June 5. Each month will highlight a different culture, with Brazil featured in June and films from Australia and New Zealand in July.

The series will continue in September with films from Japan and in October with native American films. Several of the films will be preceded by a short ethnographic film. All films are free. The theatre must be accessed through the west entrance of the museum. (There is no film July 3.)

An adjacent outdoor cafe area will offer music and an opportunity to enjoy the summer evening. Convito Italiano will be on site serving Italian specialties and cocktails for purchase throughout the evening.

Each Saturday and Sunday everyone is invited to explore the world of natural history at Field Museum. Free tours, demonstrations and films related to ongoing exhibits at the museum are designed for families and adults.

Experience the music of different cultures as performed by Chicago area musicians. The informal performances take place throughout the exhibit areas of Field Museum.

The World Music Program is supported by the Kenneth and Harle Montgomery fund and a City Arts III/IV grant from the Chicago Office of Fine Arts, Dept. of Cultural Affairs.

"Music and Dance in Papua New Guinea" combines color photography, traditional objects, and tape-recorded music to present one aspect of the little known Highland tribes of New Guinea. The Highland tribes once used music and dance in preparation for war and to mark other important events in daily life.

The once aggressive tribes now gather by the thousands to compete in a more peaceful way--through fantastic costumes, colorful body painting and impressive dancing.

Jordan Wright's photography documents in detail the unique and the unusual, yet never forgets the humanity of his subjects.

This exhibit is organized by the Smithsonian Institution Traveling Exhibition Service (SITES) in cooperation with the University Museum of Archaeology/Anthropology of the University of Pennsylvania.

"Gods, Spirits and People" takes one on a journey spanning the globe and covering thousands of years, with a special look at how people depicted themselves, their gods and spirits in human form. The dramatic artifacts in this exhibit represent some of the world's most significant ceremonial art.

The highlight of this exhibit is the sea-spirit masks of New Caledonia of the late 19th century. Representing powerful sea-spirits, these dance masks are very rare and little has been recorded about their use. The masks are made from heavy wood and are painted black. The carved features--hooked nose, open mouth, large teeth and protruding rounded facial planes--combines many of the typical elements of the sacred art of New Caledonia.

This exciting exhibit is free with regular museum admission, and on display through this year.

Museum admission ranges from 50 cents, to $4 for families. Hours are 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., seven days a week. For public program information call (312) 322-8854.

Golfers May Learn More At Pine Meadow Lessors

Joe and Frank Jemsek will host 11 mini golf schools at Pine Meadow Golf Course in Mundelein and Cog Hill Golf Course in Lemont.

The mini school consists of a four-hour long lesson on each of three days, from 8:30 to 11:30 a.m. or from 1 to 5 p.m. A five-day school is also being held from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. with a short break for lunch. The five-day school features more intense instruction and videotaping of each student's progress.

The full school will be offered at Pine Meadow May 18-22. Instructors will be Jim Flick, Dick Aultman, DeDe Owens and Tom Paxson, director.

Mini schools at Pine

Meadow will be offered July 7-9, July 11-13, Sept. 8-10,

Sept. 12-14 and Sept. 16-18. Flick and Owens will be instructors for the July schools while John Elliott joins Owens as an instructor in the September classes.

Orchestra Backing Art Show

The Zion Chamber Orchestra will close its 1986-87 concert season on Saturday, June 13, with a performance of Mozart's "Symphony No. 40 in G Minor." Also performing are the ZCO Woodwind Quintet and the ZCO Piano Trio.

The woodwind quintet will perform "Prelude and Fugue" by J.S. Bach and "Trios Pieces Breve" by Jacques Ibert.

The trio will perform piano trios by Schubert and Beethoven.

In conjunction with the concert will be the Fourth Annual Zion Chamber Orchestra Art Show and Contest. First, second and third place ribbons will be awarded in each category. A $25 cash prize will be awarded for best of show.

Entries will be on display before and after the contest. Judging will be just prior to the concert and winners will be announced during the contest.

The concert and art contest will be in the Christian Arts Auditorium of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion at 7:30 p.m. on June 13.

Tickets are $4 for adults, $3 for students and senior citizens, and $2 for children under 12. For further information, call (312) 872-4803.

NEED SOME BODY WORK?

Could your low back pain or hip pain be caused by a SHORT LEG SYNDROME? Thousands of people have short leg syndrome...one leg shorter than the other due to muscle imbalance, spinal misalignment, or pelvic bone displacement. Short leg syndrome can be the cause of backache, headache, neck pain, hip pain, shoulder pain, numbness...and other disorders. A simple test can indicate whether your pain and discomfort could be due to a short leg...and whether chiropractic might be the way to get back to normal.

ASK TONI

The 'missing' John Wayne film isn't really missing

By Toni Reinhold

My husband is a fan of John Wayne and has seen all his films. Most seem to be on tape and on TV except "McLintock." What happened to it? Will it ever be on TV? - V.K., Hastings, Neb.

John Wayne

If you're checking video catalogs, you had better double-check your spelling - the film is "McLintock!" It's a 1963 Western/comedy starring Wayne, Maureen O'Hara, Stefanie Powers, Patrick Wayne, Yvonne De Carlo, Chill Wills, Bruce Cabot, Jack Kruschen and Jerry Van Dyke. Drop a note to your local movie channel, telling them that you'd like to see it.

Wasn't John Getz of "Marliah" in another series a couple of years ago? What was it called, and when did it air? - D.R.H., Hartshorne, Okla.

He played Dr. Daniel Gentry in the medical drama "Rafferty," which aired on CBS in the fall of 1977. He appeared in another short-lived series, a sitcom called "Suzanne Pleshette Is Maggie Briggs," which aired from March to April 1984. He was also in the short-lived 1985 series "MacGruder & Loud."

I say Dick Van Dyke was one of the regulars on "The Carol Burnett Show." Everyone says I'm wrong. Am I? - T.O., Wheeling, W.Va.

When comedian Harvey Korman left the show in 1977, he was replaced as a regular by Dick Van Dyke.

I remember a series about Jim Bowie, but I can't recall who starred in it. I'd also like the name of the show that starred one of the actors from "The Big Valley" and was set in New Orleans. - B.A.U., Cleveland, Ohio.

Scott Forbes starred in the title role of "The Adventures of Jim Bowie" (1956-58). The other series you're thinking about was a detective drama, "Bourbon Street Beat." It starred Richard Long (he played Jarrod Barkley on "The Big Valley") and Andrew Duggan and aired during the 1959-60 television season.

CLC Boasts Diverse Class

Approximately 890 students were recognized at the College of Lake County's 18th annual Commencement held on the Grayslake campus.

The commencement honored students who completed graduation requirements during the 1986 fall semester or who intend to complete requirements during the current semester or during the upcoming summer session.

Former Associate Supreme Court Justice Arthur Goldberg delivered the commencement address and received the Outstanding Illinois Citizen Award. The award, presented by Board of Trustees member James Lumber, is given annually by CLC to a person who has combined a distinguished career with longtime community service.

Certificates and degrees were awarded in 79 programs of study. Forty-four percent of the graduates were enrolled in transfer programs, and 56 percent in career programs. The divisions with the largest number of graduates were business, with 21 percent, and biological and health sciences, with 17 percent. Health sciences followed with 11 percent, social sciences five percent, and humanities two percent.

Graduates ranged in age from 18 to 65, with 79 percent under the age of 35. Five percent were over age 46.

Over 45 Lake County communities and 15 towns outside Lake County were represented in the graduating class.

For the Castenada family of Waukegan, commencement was a family affair. Ralph and Mary Castenada both received associate of applied science degrees, and their daughter Kimberly received an associate of arts degree.

Columbia Graduates

Four area students received their bachelor of arts degrees from Columbia College. Mark Anderson and John Penfield of Round Lake, and Elena Garcia and Peter Graham of Mundelein, were among students graduating from the liberal arts college in Chicago.

Monmouth Grads

Three area students were among those graduating from Monmouth College on May 23. Keith Johnson of Wauconda, Bonnie Hamilton of Round Lake Beach, and Penny Young of Gurnee were awarded bachelor of arts degrees from the school in Monmouth, Ill.

Grass Lake Awards 24

Grass Lake School Dist. 36 announces its 1987 graduating class.

Marina Stafford is class valedictorian, and Shelley Brausam is salutatorian.

Other graduates are Kelly Forst, Nicole Gannon, Dorothea Graves, Charles Haling, Michael Jorudd, Wendy Kaufmann, Jason Kitto, Raymond Lauer, Aaron Martin, Korinne Miszewski, Jason Nolan, and Jeana Nord.

Deanna Olenick, Keith Ritzert, Daniel Romanski, Scott Soltis, Steven Stachura, Marina Stafford, Shannon Thompson, Scott Ulm, Jennifer Vandrush, Nicole Walczak, and Jerry Young.

To Graduate 22

Graduation ceremonies at Millburn School, Wadsworth, will be held at 7:30 p.m. on Thursday, June 11.

Receive Diplomas

Among the 108 graduates of St. Joseph High School, Kenosha, were three Lakeland area students: Tara Hill, Gurnee; Donald Wiggins, North Chicago; and Derek Pencak, Wadsworth.

Saint Mary's College

Mary Katherine Jeray of Mundelein was awarded a bachelor of arts degree from Saint Mary's College, Winona, Minn.

Names Award Recipient

Arthur J. Goldberg, whose brilliant career has spanned law, diplomacy, politics and academia, has been selected as the recipient of the College of Lake County's annual Outstanding Illinois Citizen Award.

Recipients are selected on the basis of a distinguished career combined with longtime service to the community. The award was presented formally at CLC's commencement ceremony on May 16.

Goldberg, a former Chicago resident, earned an associate degree from the City College of Chicago and received a bachelor's degree and his juris doctorate from Northwestern University.

In 1961, President John F. Kennedy chose Goldberg to serve as his Secretary of Labor. The following year he was appointed Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, a position he held until President Johnson asked him to move to New York as a United Nations representative in 1965. He served in that capacity until 1968, when he joined the faculty at the Woodrow Wilson School of Diplomacy at Princeton University.

MLT Students Receive Pins

Parents and friends of students gathered in the C-wing of the College of Lake County's new auditorium on May 16 for the second annual pinning ceremony for medical laboratory technology students.

MLT student Kelley Bethke welcomed the audience and students. Congratulatory remarks were made by Dr. James Dopke, vice president of educational affairs; Kenneth Wehde, MLT Club co-president, freshman class; Virginia McKinney, club co-president, sophomore class; Dr. Virginia Thompson, associate dean, biological and health sciences; and Dr. Janice Young, MLT advisory committee.

Jane Leicht, MLT program coordinator, announced a scholarship award to be given to a freshman in memory of Lynelle Krueger.

Krueger, Leicht explained, had been an honor graduate of the first MLT pinning and "had hopes of extending her medical career by attending the University of Illinois Medical School. These hopes were cancelled" due to her sudden death in November, 1986.

Leicht explained that the scholarship had been made possible by the efforts of the students and faculty of CLC. She then awarded the scholarship to freshman Marie Bellasario. Members of the Krueger family were introduced as honored guests.

Leicht, Reme Tesch and Barbara Marelo then "pinned" the 14 members of the graduating class present.

A reception and luncheon followed the ceremony.

ISU Graduates

Four students from the Lakeland area were awarded bachelors degrees from Illinois State University, Normal. They are Steven Hook of Grayslake, Debby Kierran of Lake Villa, Catherine Mullery of North Chicago and Kathleen Smith of Round Lake.

Award Distinguished Citizen

College of Lake County Board member James Lumber leads audience in congratulating Arthur Goldberg after presenting him with Ill. Distinguished Citizen's Award. Goldberg, former associate supreme court justice, is community college graduate.

Roosevelt To Open Lake County Campus

Roosevelt University will open a new campus this fall at Stevenson High School in Prairie View.

Roosevelt president Rolf Weil said the new Lake County campus will enable persons from the far northern suburbs to earn a bachelor's or master's degree in a number of program areas.

Roosevelt will offer programs designed for business professionals, teachers, community college graduates, and women interested in entering or re-entering the job market.

Jan Hamilton, associate dean of Roosevelt's Evelyn T. Stone College of Continuing Education, has been appointed director of the new campus. She said Roosevelt will offer 18 classes at the campus this fall, many taught by Roosevelt's full-time faculty members.

Four courses in the MBA program will be presented, including one taught by the dean of Roosevelt's Walter E. Heller College of Business Administration. Two undergraduate business courses will be offered.

Six graduate level education courses leading toward a master's degree in education are planned on topics ranging from substance abuse to community relations. Three undergraduate liberal arts courses have been selected, which may be taken as electives or used toward a degree in social science.

In addition, Roosevelt will offer its bachelor of general studies degree program, which allows adults over age 25 to complete a degree, full- or part-time, in less time than comparable programs. Computer science courses will be among those available in this concentration.

Hamilton said Stevenson High School was selected as the site for the new campus because it is conveniently located on Hwy. 22 (Half Day Rd.) and is close to other major highways and the Tri-State Tollway. Courses will be offered in the evening and on Saturdays for the convenience of working students.

Registration is Sept. 3, 5 and 8 for the fall term, which begins Sept. 9.

Roosevelt, headquartered on Michigan Ave. in Chicago, has taught courses at suburban locations for many years.

For more information on the Lake County campus, call (312)341-2400.

What should be the role of the media in our political system? Perhaps these quotations from prominent Americans, local politicians and Tom Schilling, a former political writer for a metropolitan newspaper, will furnish us with the answer.

Dear Fellow Career Seeker,
I would like to tell you about my great experience. Because Echols School gave me such wonderful training and support, I am delighted to give this endorsement.

I was eighteen years old, and very confused and scared about my future. I was getting close to graduation from high school in Streator. I was not interested in college, and I did not have the funds at the time. I was going to stay in Streator and look for a job, but I wanted a real career.

One day my career counselor told me he was taking a group of students to Chicago to visit a travel and hotel school which not only trained high school graduates for positions in the hospitality industry, but also helped to place them in good positions with the airlines, hotels and travel agencies. I decided to investigate... and am I glad I did!

I went to visit the school and was very impressed. I enrolled two weeks after high school graduation. Through the efforts of the great School Placement Service, I received a job at the famous Hyatt Regency in Chicago... and do I love my job! It is so exciting and a wonderful career for people like us. I never know who might be coming to our hotel, Michael Jackson, Bruce Springsteen, or even the President of the United States. I relish that kind of excitement.

My career choice exceeded my fondest hopes. I am earning my living in downtown Chicago doing something I truly enjoy and I am earning more than I ever dreamed possible.

Perhaps your career counselor would bring a group of students to Chicago to visit the Echols School. You will visit the classroom sessions, the American Airlines Computer Center, and see how interesting it really is. Why not call Mrs. Echols and arrange to visit the schools. The address and phone is: TIME/LIFE BUILDING, 303 E. OHIO STREET, SUITE 2718, CHICAGO, IL 60611. (312) 943-5500. If finances are a problem, financial assistance is available.

Sincerely yours,
Chris Brickman

Stacy Miller To Speak

Stacy Miller, a local expert form Round Lake will discuss safety, food values, laws, identification and preparation of various plants in the area, providing participants with the resources, and basic knowledge to pursue the hobby in depth, at a program offered at the Edward Ryerson Conservation Area at 1 p.m., Sunday, June 14.

The two-hour program begins at the visitor center of the Ryerson Conservation Area and includes field identification and "refreshments." The cost is 50 cents for Lake County residents and $1 for those visiting from out of the county. The program is geared toward adults.

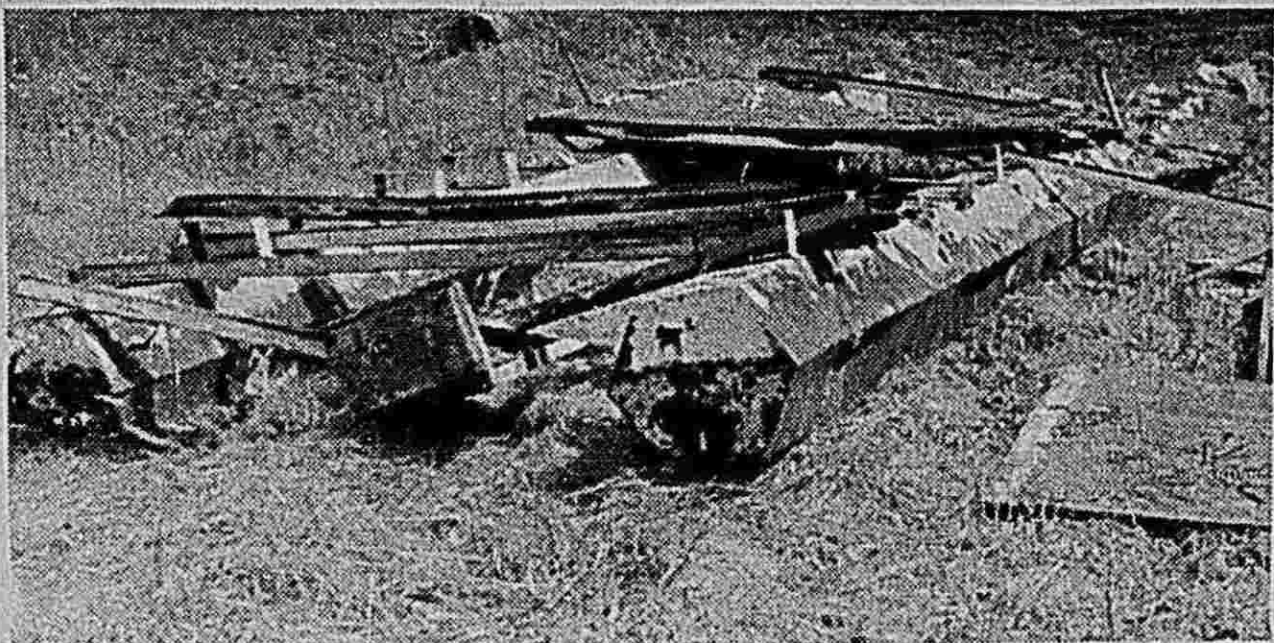

Don Strenger, president of the Lake County Forest Preserve Dist., said, "All of the plants on our preserve lands are protected by county laws, and a number by state and federal laws, however, many of the plants Stacy covers may be found in your own back yard. This is a hobby that can be enjoyed by anyone almost anywhere."

The Edward L. Ryerson Conservation Area is located on Roverwoods Rd. in Deerfield, between Deerfield and Half Day Rds. Phone (312) 948-7750 for reservations.

Club To Install

Grayslake Woman's Club will hold its annual installation luncheon on Wednesday, June 10 at the Country Squire new banquet facility. Festivities will begin at 11:30 a.m. Reservations may be made by contacting President Linnea Schalk, (312) 223-4922, or program chairman, Mary Jane Lucas, (312) 223-0868, or art chairman, Willadene Nicholas, (312) 223-8926. Eyesore Decaying pontoon boat on vacant property exemplifies the need for stricter enforcement of county regulations governing junk and debris. Some residents are raising protest to debris-littered yards.

State's Attorney Draws Fire On Enforcement

Note: This is the sixth in a series of articles on building and zoning violations.

by LARRY WITTNEBERT
Sixteen-year Williams Park resident Bob Collins pins blame on the state's attorney's office for slipshod enforcement of building and zoning regulations in the water-fronted, Wauconda Twp. subdivision.

Collins, of 26943 Bernice St., and a former three-year employee of the building and zoning department, claims that Fred Foreman, state's attorney, fails to enforce existing laws governing building and zoning department violations.

Collins claims that Foreman drops the ball even though he asked for and received a housing judge to handle the multitude of cases involved in this area.

Regarding building and zoning action, he contends that 95 percent of the visible violations in Williams Park have been red-tagged or marked as offenses.

Most violations resulted from junk and debris strewn on residential property, he added, and are commonplace. "There's just violations all over out there," he said.

He claims that the state's attorney has built a backlog of cases dating back to the mid-1980s when operation clean-up was held in Williams Park, bringing in prisoners to collect debris and load it into big dumpsters.

Collins speculated that evidently the dearth of proper enforcement extends county-wide.

He concedes, however, that the state's attorney did send three letters to Williams Park violators after Rich Anderson of the county board pinpointed offenses on a map and took it to the state's attorney's office.

The letters ordered the violators to clean up their mess.

Collins added that he's seen one resident trying to remove debris from a yard in the northwest corner of Main and Bernice St. The resident obtained a dumpster and "totally filled it with junk from his yard," Collins said.

Another resident, however, sets a bad example. The resident, living on the south side of Main St., drives a truck down the alley, picks up junk and then dumps it in his yard.

Collins said that the junk includes farm plows, mowers, junk snowmobiles and junk cars. However, the resident has been red-tagged and since then, has rearranged some of his junk, Collins said.

Collins, now a technical advisor to the Illinois Dept. of Transportation, claims that Bob Streicher of the building and zoning department "has done a pretty good job."

He said that Streicher used to give field inspectors just 24 hours to act on a reported violation.

He added that if "he's be the first one on him" if he thought Streicher was 100% at fault in Williams Park.

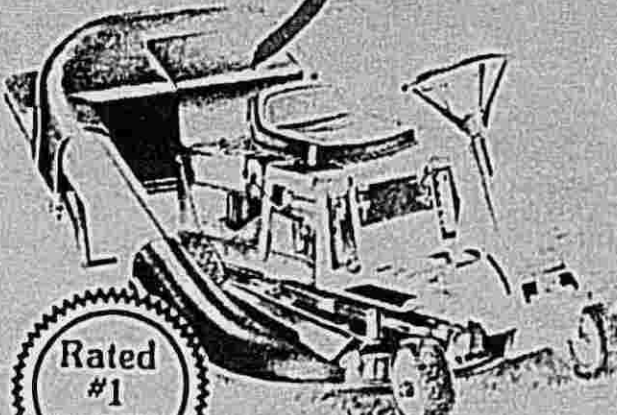

Collins, in other remarks, conceded that some yards neatly kept in the western Wauconda Twp. subdivision on the south side of Slocum Lake.

THIS WEEK'S

HOROSCOPE

BY SALOME

Weekly Tip: Be supportive of others.

Aries (Mar. 21-Apr. 19) You are tempted to go off and ignore important duties, but don't do it. You must be conscientious about your work now. Later give in to your desires.

Taurus (Apr. 20-May 20) Don't be too disappointed if friends or family can't be with you now. Go out and do something you've always wanted to do by yourself, but don't let the expense be too great.

Gemini (May 21-June 20) A friend of yours and an acquaintance are not getting along; don't get involved in any of their arguments. Be careful about everything you say or write.

Cancer (June 21-Jul 20) Your monetary affairs may be headed for trouble if you don't straighten them out now. Be careful in all movement this week, whether walking, flying, driving, etc.

Leo (Jul 21-Aug. 22) Show that you can be affectionate. Try to avoid an expense that could bring you much trouble and loss of money. Balance your budget.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Try not to let a disturbance at home take control of your life. Concentrate on your personal wishes for a while.

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) Keep your mouth shut. Don't confide all your problems and secrets in others; this could only make matters worse. Spend some time thinking by yourself.

Scorpio (Oct. 23-Nov. 21) You are puzzled by something, but if you'd only listen to a supportive friend, you may find the answer. You are feeling restless, but don't go off on any crazy tangents.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) Keep the promises you have made; if you don't, you may ruin your reputation. Do whatever you can right now to enhance your prestige.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) If you are more affectionate, others may respond to you better. Look for a new opportunity coming your way and recognize it when it comes.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) Don't let gossip waste your time. Complete all those tasks you've started and left hanging over your head.

Pisces (Feb. 19-Mar. 20) Try to be more understanding of others. Have a long talk with someone who needs you now; this will make for a better relationship.

If you were born this week you need a lot of praise and encouragement in order to achieve the success you desire. You tend to get easily distracted and flip from one thing to the next without finishing what you've started. You are family oriented and probably good at sports if you try.
